Offer To Build
Group Shelters

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — A new corporation is offering to build group bomb shelters for residents of this Chicago suburb and to operate them on a dues-paying basis.

The corporation, the Owners Service Club, said it had sent out letters of inquiry to the 23,000 residential telephone subscribers in the community.

The letters proposed to build underground shelters of reinforced concrete in areas where members are concentrated.

Gov. Lawrence
Visits Biddle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's Gov. David Lawrence, in the nation's capital to visit cancer-stricken Anthony Drexel Biddle, made a brief stop at the White House Wednesday to say hello to President Kennedy. He chatted with Kennedy for about a minute, he said, and reported "nothing new" was involved. Biddle was adjutant general in the Lawrence Administration before becoming ambassador to Spain.

Markets Will Fight Blue Laws

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Twenty-one western Pennsylvania supermarkets go to court Thursday to try to block enforcement of a new state law limiting food sales on Sundays.

Judge Rabe F. Marsh of U.S. District Court is scheduled to hear the petition for a preliminary injunction.

The law, which goes into effect next Sunday, bans stores with 10 or more employees from selling meat, produce and groceries on Sundays. Stores with less than 10 employees can make such sales on Sundays.

Scarbeck Jury
In Deliberation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal court jury weighing the fate of American diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck was locked up for the night Wednesday night after deliberating 7½ hours without reaching a verdict.

Deliberations resume at 9:30 A.M. (EDT) Thursday.

The former second secretary of the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw, accused in a four-count indictment of passing three embassy documents to Polish agents, could be imprisoned up to 33 years and fined $32,000 if convicted.

AFL-CIO Seek
30-Hour Week

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The state AFL-CIO asked Wednesday for a 30-hour work week and a statewide minimum wage of $1.50 an hour.

The 2,000 delegates to the organization's fourth annual convention also urged at the closing session that the federal Landrum-Griffin Act of 1959 and the state Condon-Wadlin Act of 1947, both of which regulate union activities, be repealed.

The Landrum-Griffin Act regulates union elections and fiscal practices. The Condon-Wadlin Act prohibits strikes by public employees in the state.

Violence In South America

CUAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Police used clubs, tear gas and noise bombs to break up a rioting crowd Wednesday in Santiago, this country's second city. A number of persons were injured but no persons were reported killed. About 50 were arrested.

The violence erupted after funeral services for a victim of rioting last Friday in Ciudad Trujillo, Jose Cerda, 27. He was one of four persons reported slain in fighting that day between police and antigovernment rioters.

After graveside rites here for Cerda, about 500 persons marched into the city chanting "Liberty! Liberty!"

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Security Council approved U.N. membership Wednesday for Outer Mongolia and Mauritania, breaking a deadlock that had endangered Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations.

Nationalist China had threatened to veto Outer Mongolia and the Soviet Union to veto Mauritania. Both lifted their veto threats, sending the membership applications of the two small countries on to the General Assembly, where final approval is assured. They will become the 102nd and 103rd U.N. members.

The package deal was concluded after weeks of backstage maneuvering and appeals that reached to President Kennedy, who urged President Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists not to jeopardize their U.N. seat by vetoing Outer Mongolia as they had done in 1955.

Predict Deficit
Of $7 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal budget deficit approaching $7 billion will be forecast officially Sunday by the Kennedy administration.

The Budget Bureau said Wednesday revised spending and revenue estimates for the 1962 fiscal year, which began July 1, will be announced then.

Although the bureau gave no hint of the figures, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said last week the deficit will exceed $6.75 billion. Budget experts have been making minor changes in the totals this week, boosting it closer to $7 billion.

Spending will be forecast at near $89 billion—a peacetime record. Revenues will be put at about $82 billion.

A CHECK for $2,000, representing donations from guests of Strickland's Mountain Inn during the past year, was given to the Monroe County General Hospital Expansion Fund of the Monroe County General Hospital and president of the Anna Logan Society in the presence of Arlington Williams, general campaign manager of the Hospital Expansion Fund, and Jere Stofflet, president of the Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Robert Kennelly, a nurse from St. Francis' Hospital in Worcester, Mass., and currently a honeymooning guest at Strickland's, handed the check to Mrs. John Wellington, member of the Board of Trustees of the Monroe County General Hospital and president of the Anna Logan Society in the presence of Arlington Williams, general campaign manager of the Hospital Expansion Fund, and Jere Stofflet, president of the Board of Trustees.

Council Of Education Gives
Tentative Redistricting Plan

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Council of Education Wednesday adopted tentative standards designed to implement the state's controversial new school district reorganization law.

The council approved an eight-point program at a two-hour meeting. The tentative standards will be forwarded for study to the state's school officials. They will be given final consideration at the council's Dec. 17 meeting.

Among key provisions of the standards was one stipulating that the council's policy will be to require reorganized school districts to be in units of more than 4,000 public school children with few exceptions.

Under the reorganization law, the state's present 2,185 school districts will be recast into fewer, but larger, units by July, 1965.

The law sets a target size for districts of 4,000 pupils, but allows smaller districts down to an absolute minimum of 2,500 at the discretion of the council.

Many lawmakers indicated they expected the absolute minimum to become the probable size of many districts, instead of 4,000.

Another major proposal would require school districts otherwise meeting the standards to provide a full 12-grade school program. Other tentative standards would provide:

That units in new districts be contiguous.

That the units provide education meeting the needs of the individual and "the interests of the nation, commonwealth and community."

That each unit should have at least one high school.

That in planning schools they: Be accessible; take into account future population; consider socioeconomic characteristics; ease of transportation; consider existing school districts.

That county school plans assure continued operation of their special education and technical school programs.

That county plans could include part of neighboring counties with the concurrence of the neighboring county board.

Dr. Ralph Swan, deputy superintendent of public instruction, said reorganization hearings would probably be held Nov. 8 in these places: Allentown; Nesquehanna; Bucks County; West Chester; Scranton; Harrisburg; Bedford; Pittsburgh; Edinboro; Philipsburg and Williamsport.

Mrs. Kennelly made a presentation statement, followed by thanks from Mrs. Wellington and remarks from Mr. Williams and Mr. Stofflet. Chase Whitman, Strickland social director, who handled the weekly affairs which produced the money, was master of ceremonies.

These weekly social affairs brought in the $1000 donation of two years ago which established the Isotope Fund at the hospital and a $1500 maintenance gift for that department last year.

In addition to providing fun for the guests, the weekly parties have also given them a chance to contribute to the hospital which serves this area, including providing protection and service to the thousands of visitors who come to its resorts.

The expansion program at the hospital is designed to provide more bed space, already urgently needed, through the erection of a new wing. The expansion program will cost approximately $1,500,000 of which two-thirds must be raised locally.

Water Gap Opens Drive For School Bus Highway Safety

THE Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce has protested to Gov. David L. Lawrence, concerning traffic conditions along Route 611 in the borough, which the chamber describes as a hazard to school children.

With the letter, Stephen R. Matos, secretary, sent the governor news stories and editorials from The Daily Record, which were published after a six-year-old girl was injured recently while attempting to reach a school bus.

September Figures Show:

Cost Of Living Reaches Highest Point Ever

WASHINGTON (AP)—A greater than expected increase in clothing prices shored the nation's September living cost level to the highest point ever reached.

Practically every consumer spending category except food advanced slightly to increase the Labor Department index by two-tenths of one per cent over the August reading.

But at 128.3 per cent of the 1947-49 base period the index has risen only seven-tenths of one per cent so far in 1961, the smallest increase for the period since 1955.

Robert J. Myers, deputy labor statistics commissioner, said the retail cost level has remained remarkably steady and is expected to continue so.

Compared with a year earlier average retail prices were 1.2 per cent higher this September.

Myers said another small increase is likely in October but the index probably will level off then.

"We see nothing in the picture that appears to suggest a takeoff to substantially higher prices," he said.

Prices for clothing normally increase in September when new fall lines are introduced after the bargain summer clothing sales in August. This year the changeover was greater.

Average costs of feminine apparel rose nearly two per cent in September to a record high. Prices for men's and boys' items advanced seven-tenths of one per cent to just below their record mark of a year ago.

Myers said clothing industry wage levels had tended to lag in recent years but were recently raised and this probably contributed to the price increases.

Nearly 100,000 workers, mainly bus drivers and aircraft plant workers, are due to get pay raises of one to two cents an hour because of adjustments based on the higher September index.

Rents and housefurnishing costs increased. The advance of two-tenths of one per cent in rents was the highest monthly increase in a year. It was attributed principally to rising costs of property owners, particularly higher taxes.

Costs of transportation and most services were also up. Used automobiles were selling at nearly 20 per cent more than last September. New car prices declined in September but not as much as usual in advance of introducing the 1962 models.

Seasonal reductions for fresh fruits and vegetables and lower poultry prices more than offset higher costs of meat, eggs, milk and restaurant meals.

Fallout Cloud
Hovers Over
North Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP) — A giant radioactive cloud spawned by the massive Soviet superbomb explosion raced across the Pacific at speeds up to 80 miles an hour Wednesday night — headed for the Aleutian Islands. It is expected there late Thursday and over Alaska or western Canada late Friday.

Bearing only a small part of the total fallout debris, the cloud passed over northern Manchuria, southeast Siberia and possibly brushed northern Japan in a 2,000-mile, west-to-east swing during the day.

The Kamchatka Peninsula, another part of Siberia, also lay directly in its indicated path.

This was the picture sketched in by atmospheric radiation experts of the U.S. Weather Bureau. They explained that the radioactivity pushing toward the Aleutians is in the high-altitude portion of the debris hurled aloft by the 30- to 50-megaton blast touched off by the Soviet Union in the arctic Monday.

It is soaring at about 30,000 feet and mixing somewhat with the lower atmosphere as it travels. Slower-moving, lower-level components of the cloud, which disperses over a wider area than the higher-level section, may not pass over Japan until later. The Weather Bureau said this explains a report from Tokyo that scientists there warned all Japanese against the possible arrival of fallout Friday or Saturday.

The Soviet Union has probably already received its first dosing of radioactivity. Dr. Robert List, Weather Bureau scientist, reported snowfall over a large area south and east of the Soviet bomb test site presumably brought down some of the radioactive material faster than otherwise would have happened.

AFTER DRIVE INTO EAST BERLIN—Two American civilians are followed in their U.S. Army-licensed car by two U.S. Army vehicles along Friedrichstrasse in West Berlin after their drive into East Berlin. The Americans earlier had been refused permission by East German police to cross the sector border when they refused to show their identification. Then three Army vehicles, carrying soldiers with fixed bayonets, escorted the car into East Berlin at Checkpoint Charlie.

Kennedy Says Go-Ahead On Underground Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy gave the go-ahead Wednesday for a long-planned underground nuclear explosion in the salt beds of New Mexico to launch a new search for peaceful uses of atomic power.

The pioneer explosion, about 25 miles southeast of Carlsbad, probably will take place during the second week of December, the Atomic Energy Commission said.

It will be in a salt shaft, some 1,200 feet below the surface, that cost about $1 million to dig over the past year.

The total cost of the test was put at $3.5 million.

The power of the explosion, the AEC said, will be five kilotons — equal to the power of 5,000 tons of TNT and about one-fourth that of the atomic bombs dropped on Japan in World War II. Originally, the AEC had planned a 10-kiloton shot.

Although only this single explosion was approved by the President, it is expected to provide guideposts for a myriad of other proposals for peaceful uses of the atom — some in advanced stages, others merely dreams.

The White House said the test will be stripped of all mystery — that scientists of all interested United Nations members, including the Soviet Union, will be permitted to be on hand.

However, an AEC spokesman pointed out that the explosion cannot be seen although there will be a vast array of scientific instruments above ground to measure the effects of the blast.

In announcing the test, he called it "a further example of this country's desire to turn the power of the atom to man's welfare rather than his destruction."

The White House listed several fields of scientific information that will be probed in the test:

— The possibility of recovering and storing up useful power from heat generated by a nuclear explosion underground. Salt is considered a good medium for storing heat.

— The feasibility of recovering isotopes of commercial or scientific value that would be produced by such explosions.

— Neutron physics and other scientific theory.

— Effects of a nuclear detonation in salt.

— Design principles useful in developing nuclear explosive devices specifically for peaceful purposes.

The United States so far has announced it set off three underground blasts in military tests since the Soviet Union ended a three-year moratorium on nuclear explosions Sept. 1.

Resolution
Is Rammed
Through UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A resolution urging Moscow to cancel a 50-megaton h-bomb blast was rammed through the U.N. Political Committee Wednesday night over bitter Soviet opposition.

By a vote of 75 to 10 with one abstention (Mali) the committee approved an eight-nation resolution recommending that the U.N. General Assembly confront Moscow with a solemn appeal to refrain from testing the big bomb scheduled before the end of this month.

Only the Soviet bloc and Cuba voted against the appeal.

The action capped a day in which the Soviet bloc aided by some Asian-African nations tried desperately to plunge the committee into procedural wrangles that would delay action.

But the committee chairman, Mario Amadeo of Argentina, a skillful lawyer-diplomat, guided the committee to the voting stage despite repeated attacks from the Communist bloc.

The Soviet bloc was rebuffed in two last-minute attempts to avert a vote. They first tried to have the committee adjourned, and then to prevent a closure of debate which paved the way for an immediate vote.

The General Assembly will meet Thursday morning. Denmark proposed arrangements be made to get quick ratification of the committee action at that time.

In the course of the debate the Soviet Union indicated it would reject any appeal to call off the 50-megaton blast. It declared maneuvers by North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations would not deter the Soviet Union from perfecting its defensive capabilities.

At a morning session the committee choked off a Soviet-led filibuster and voted to set aside general nuclear debate to consider the resolution requesting Moscow to cancel the test.

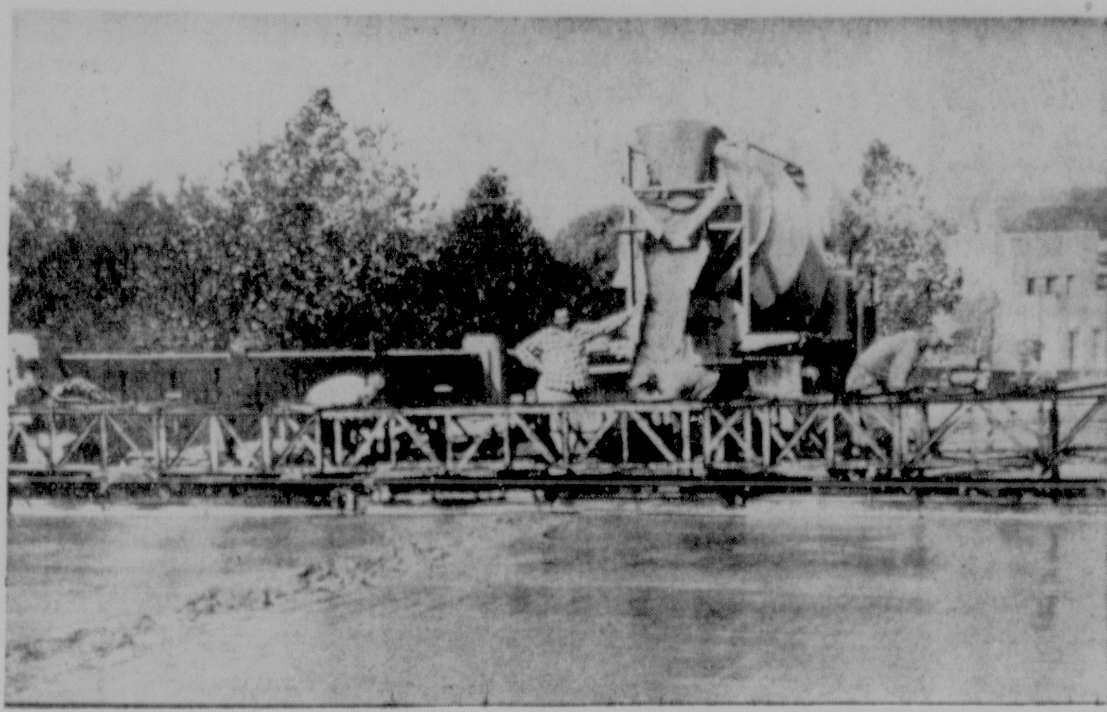

Arthur Dean, U.S. delegate, said his country still believes the most effective way to settle the nuclear test issue is by a treaty providing effective controls, but that the United States would support the resolution.

Semyon K. Tsarapkin, the Soviet delegate, said that the United States in the past had conducted tests of 15, 20 — and perhaps even 30-megaton bombs.

He declared that the countries supporting the resolution are military allies of the United States who remained silent during U.S. tests in the atmosphere.

State Colleges Face Expansion

Editor's note: an expanded role for Pennsylvania's 14 state-owned colleges is in the works. The implications of the change are discussed in a two-part series.

State colleges—part 1 of a two-part series—"New Role."

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's 14 state-owned colleges are being groomed for a new role.

State officials are planning to move the colleges away from their specialized function of training teachers and into the mainstream of higher education.

The step tentatively is planned for next year.

When it is fully accomplished, some years hence—the timetable is indefinite—it is anticipated that about half the students at these institutions will be regular college students, studying for a bachelor of arts degree.

It is a change that will have important implications for Pennsylvania's modest income families, for taxpayers, for private colleges and for the communities in which the 14 institutions are located.

The rising cost of a college education is perhaps most important factor behind the new plans.

To put a young man or woman through a private Pennsylvania college today would cost an average of $925 a year for tuition.

But at a state college the tuition (called a "basic fee" because the state cannot legally charge tuition at its colleges) is $200, (the state is going to see to it that more get a chance to go to college, the state-owned colleges) are the logical place for it to start.

The governor's committee on education proposed that the colleges prepare to enroll 60,000 students by 1970.

Expect 300,000.

An estimated 27 per cent—190,000 students—now are attending college, including part-timers. By 1970, it is estimated that about 300,000 young men and women will be entering college.

The state colleges' assignment will be to provide a quality education for the masses who cannot—and will not be able to by 1970—afford private institutions' tuitions.

There are, of course, loan and scholarship programs to help cases of acute financial need. And these programs probably will increase over the years.

However, most of their assistance will be, presumably, for the intellectual elite.

That would leave out the qualified youngster whose IQ is not as high and whose family has limited financial means.

This is the point where the state colleges enter the picture in an expanded role as liberal arts institution.

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, state superintendent of public instruction who also serves as chairman of the board of presidents of the state colleges, has cautioned the institutions that much must be done to accomplish the transformation.

The curriculum needs to be strengthened, especially in the third and fourth years. For some time now, the state colleges have been offering liberal arts courses in the first two years to their teacher-students. This was the result of a movement begun in 1953 to give more emphasis to the general education of the future teacher and less on methods of teaching.

In addition to filling out general education courses for the last two years, the colleges also appreciate the fact their present offerings need more breadth.

Representatives from the 14 colleges already have been scheduled for a two-day meeting—at the end of this month—to discuss with other experts in the field what can be done to strengthen their science and mathematics courses. Improvements also are needed for the faculties.

The average salary for the 1,251 professional (teaching and administration) employees is $6,708.35; each teaching member of the faculty is responsible for an average of 17-18 students.

Although exact figures for the other colleges and universities were not available, the state feels, and sources at private institutions concede, that salary and work loads are not comparable with the average.

For these reasons, state officials say that, at best, the initiation of the new role for the institutions at Bloomsburg, California, Cheyney, Clarion, East Stroudsburg, Edinboro, Indiana, Kutztown, Lock Haven, Mansfield, Millersville, Shippensburg, Slippery Rock and West Chester will be, at best, "modest" next fall.

Let's Follow It Through!

Since two recent school bus route accidents, Monroe County citizens are again taking action to have serious situations involving the safety of school children corrected. Action on one matter had been started two years ago, but with the passing of time memories became dull and there was no real follow-through. The matter more or less was pigeon-holed in Harrisburg.

However, since a school child was struck and injured a few weeks ago at a dangerous point on Route 611 in the vicinity of Delaware Water Gap, action has again been resumed with the hope that some correction of the hazards can be effected.

The Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce has written an appeal directly to Governor David L. Lawrence asking for action, and presenting documentary evidence that the same request had been made through channels two years ago. From the correspondence at that time, it would seem that after a few letters back and forth the issue was just forgotten.

We have heard, too, that other organizations in the affected area are planning other actions to have the conditions remedied, and trust that it is not just words with no resultant plan of attack. Now is the time for as many persons and organizations to get behind the petition for correction as possible.

It was almost a miracle that no fatality has occurred so far. The highway crossing incident resulted in serious injury to a little girl. This is bad enough, but it could have been a case of the child being killed. In the incident of a coal trailer sideswiping a school bus containing eight children, the result could have been a terrible tragedy.

Now is the time for correction before the incidents are forgotten again. The actions for correction must be followed through before a child or children are further maimed or killed!

Votes Can Affect The Constitution

By Mason Denison
HARRISBURG—In less than two weeks the scalpel and grafting irons will be wielded on Pennsylvania's somewhat aged and creaking State Constitution.

The only persons who will handle the chore though will be those who comprise the five million-plus bloc of Pennsylvania's eligible voters.

When the horn blows and the curtain goes up on Tuesday morning, November 7, those Pennsylvanians who have their voting franchises properly in order will not only vote on a host of local offices at stake—plus the lone statewide contest for State Supreme Court justice—but also a chance to nibble on five proposed amendments to the State Constitution of 1874.

thing inert; it doesn't have a physical personality with which to campaign for itself as does a candidate for public office—although admittedly there are some pretty inert candidates at that!

Gaze at the votes cast for and against a constitutional amendment and chances are good you'll be quite surprised at how low it is as compared with the votes cast for ("ert") living candidates listed on the same ballot.

Off The Record

Monroe County's traveling salesman, Marty Baldwin, was out in St. Louis last week. The area's chief ambassador of goodwill blended pleasure with business as he took in the sights in the Mound City.

One stop for Marty was at Stan Musial's plush restaurant. While at Stosh's emporium of good food, Baldwin had long talks with Marty Blake, the chief tub-thumper of the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association, and Musial.

Joining the Baldwin table later was such known court greaser as Bob Pettit, Cliff Hagen and Paul Seymour, coach of the Hawks.

John Whitehead is carving a niche for himself in Middletown, N.Y. The former Stroud Union head football coach has guided his New York State high school eleven to four straight victories, thus far, this season.

Ever since Whitehead left the local terrain he has steadily moved up in scholastic grid circles. Surely you can't improve on the loss mark of a 4-0 record unless you jump to 5-0.

Incidentally Whitehead is also a busy bee in community affairs, heading successfully a campaign to get more memberships for the Middletown YMCA. Aside from this, he has pushed other activities that bring about group participating for youths 9 to 13.

Mary Fontanella, the Republican Party's vice chairlady in Monroe County proved she's not afraid of anything, including a bear family.

The other night, Mary came upon papa bear and his three cubs while returning to her home in Swiftwater after a night at a Fred Waring concert.

Mrs. Fontanella's typical woman's answer about the wild game was, "Gee, they were cute."

Mrs. Fontanella, a resident of Swiftwater, believes the bears were planted there by Democrats who had hoped to scare the GOP official into silence until after the General Election, Nov. 7.

Judging by Mary's report we doubt that anything ever fazed the Republicans' energetic tub-thumper from the mountains.

A great big elephant lumbered into an Eighth Avenue bar and grille, ordered six straight whiskies, and consumed them unburied with a faraway gleam in his eyes. "You sure use up a lot of whiskey," noted the bartender. "Why don't you buy it by the bottle?"

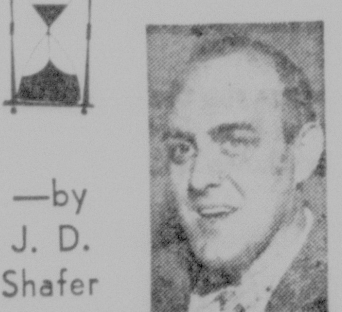

"I haven't found a liquor store yet," explained the elephant, "that gives peanuts with it."

Guerilla Action In Viet Nam Is Studied

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington—The best kept secret of General Taylor's mission to South Viet Nam is his private orders from President Kennedy to make an on-the-spot investigation of President Ngo Dinh Diem's highly secret proposal to carry the war into North Viet Nam.

As proposed to the President through diplomatic channels, President Ngo Dinh Diem's explosive plan calls for U.S. help in the infiltration of several thousand of the best Vietnamese jungle fighters behind the North Viet Nam border.

The dangerous mission of these counter-guerilla troops would be to disrupt the preparations of the Communist Viet Cong forces for a full-scale invasion of South Viet Nam. They would be used to cut the Communist communication lines that now run through Laos into the delta area of South Viet Nam.

Vietnamese troops would begin the organization of anti-Communist forces among the peasants of North Viet Nam, stirring up a major rebellion there.

Already, the daring proposal of President Ngo Dinh Diem has touched off a sharp policy dispute within the Kennedy administration over whether the U.S. should give him the material and supplies his military needs to successfully carry off this bold military venture.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, retiring CIA director Allen Dulles, and Dr. Walt Whitman Rostow, special assistant to the President in charge of anti-guerilla warfare policy, are all opposing the plan on the grounds that such offensive action might widen the conflict and bring hordes of Communist Chinese "volunteers" pouring into the battle.

Dr. Rostow, a member of the Taylor mission, goes even further in his personal opposition, contending that "the sending of men and arms across international boundaries and the direction of guerilla war from outside a sovereign nation is aggression."

All three are opposed to sending U.S. troops to South Viet Nam.

The Choice—The Joint Chiefs of Staff, although they have not been asked to make any formal recommendations to the President, look on the proposal as a possible "alternative" to sending U.S. combat troops to that Communist-imperiled Southeast Asia nation.

By supplying the Vietnamese with special anti-guerilla type arms, supplies and ships needed to mount the operation inside North Viet Nam, the Joint Chiefs believe that these behind-the-line forces could so harass the bases of General Vo Nguyen Giap, the ruthless North Vietnamese commander, that he would be forced to pull the majority of his forces out of South Viet Nam.

Also, these military advisers contend that the counter-guerilla operation in North Viet Nam could be a first step by the West in overthrowing a Communist regime short of general or even limited war.

The JCS disagree with the Central Intelligence Agency's dark estimate that the offensive action would bring Chinese Communist troops into battle.

President Kennedy sent General Taylor to the scene because there is an element of urgency for him to end the current policy debate if the counter-guerilla action is to be launched in time to head off a large-scale Communist invasion of South Viet Nam from the North.

For if this type of operation is to be a success, the U.S. must begin immediately to beef up the small South Viet Nam navy with the landing craft and small boats needed to support the infiltration.

In this kind of warfare, the Vietnamese troops would be put ashore and supplied at night along the long North Viet Nam coast on the South China Sea. South Viet Nam has the troops needed for the operation.

President Kennedy's final decision could go either way.

White House aides, who have heard the President say that he wasn't sending General Taylor to South Viet Nam to organize an invasion, believe that he will side with the Rusk-Dulles-Rostow group.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff feel that the President will follow the advice of General Taylor, whom they are counting on to recommend a long-shelved policy of taking the battle to the Communists' base of operations.

Looking Forward—U.S. jet fighters at bases in West Germany are on five-minute alerts to escort Western civilian and military planes through the East German corridors to West Berlin in case the Communists try to block the air traffic. . . . Treasurer Boss James Hoffa is sending some of his toughest organizers to the Dominican Republic to help local labor leaders there increase their influence in that Caribbean hotbed. . . . U.S. military intelligence reports that Premier Khrushchev, angling to increase Soviet influence in the Congo, is offering both military and economic help to Premier Cyrille Adoula to overpower Katanga's Premier Moise Tshombe. He made the offer in a private letter to Adoula. The language was virtually the same he used in a similar letter to the late Lumumba. . . . Mikhail Menshikov, the Soviet Ambassador to the U.S., will be replaced in the near future. That's the report that Secretary of State Rusk has sent to the White House.

Corrective Action Needed

How long can Pennsylvania afford to continue to pay out exorbitant unemployment benefits and collect unemployment compensation taxes that are higher than those of other states, and yet retain a tax climate favorable to industry?

The Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce says the Legislature adjourned without making any real attempt to cure the ailing UC program and that employers throughout the state view the fact in complete disbelief and amazement.

Many people just aren't aware that unemployment compensation is a payroll tax paid entirely by employers. It increases the costs of doing business and thus must be passed on to consumers in higher prices.

The federal tax, which is supplemented by the state levy, has been increased from .3 to .4 per cent this year.

In 1960 the Pennsylvania tax was 3 per cent, substantially higher than in Ohio, New York, Maryland and New Jersey. Next year it will go to 3.2 per cent.

In 1956 the unemployment compensation fund had a balance of $381.5 million. At the end of last year it had been drained to $71.8 million and is expected to drop into the red by $10 million at the end of this year.

While some minor improvements have been made in past years and even some loopholes were closed at the recent session of the legislature, unemployment compensation is being exploited and abused in a scandalous manner in Pennsylvania. The abuses create the high cost (tax), and not until it is reduced can Pennsylvania become competitive again with states seeking new industry. Corrective action is sorely needed.

Obligation To Intervene

The great Spanish historian, Salvador De Madariaga has written an article for the Mexican newspaper, "Excelsior," on the theme, "not to intervene against Castro." This is undoubtedly a correct historical postulate. Quite apart from the fact that it was an American policy to assist Castro before he seized power, this country has failed to do a single thing to protect its interests or its dignity vis-a-vis Cuba since Castro has come to power.

The defense of the policy of inaction can be that the United States will not permit Khrushchev to select the theater of the opening of the next war. Certainly we should prefer not to have that war start within 100 miles of American territory. If this is our strategy, then it is not unsound, but if our policy is based upon the assumption that we intervene against capitalist dictators but not against socialists of any kind, then we have erred.

The question arises as to how extensive a program should intervention be. Madariaga says:

"The rule that states must not interfere in the internal affairs of other states has always been tacitly accepted as a matter of common sense. But how far was it respected in actual fact?"

Intervention has been usual throughout history, the United States justifying its interference in Latin America by the moralistic Monroe Doctrine. Madariaga cites as an example of automatic intervention this example:

"Now-a-days, even those events that seem most strictly national may reveal themselves world-wide in their import. The general election that brought Hitler to power was a German internal enough (sic) event: it cost millions of dead to half the world outside of Germany."

Madariaga goes further to say:

"The principle of non-intervention therefore, has collapsed under the mere pressure of the new solidarity which has made all of the nations one single world community. For this reason, intervention is inevitable—at any rate in fact, even when such a fact is not officially recognized. For instance, France, Britain and the U.S.A., having decided not to intervene in the Spanish civil war in favor of the Spanish Republic, and by the mere fact that they didn't, did actually intervene in favour of the rebels."

Or again, if the USA does not intervene in Cuba against Castro it will in fact intervene passively in his favour and therefore, alongside China and the Soviet Union, which are intervening there actively."

There can be no question as to the logic of Madariaga's conclusions. Whereas Soviet Russia has developed a technique for intervening in the internal affairs of every nation by means of an indigenous political party, the Communist Party, which publicly establishes its loyalty to the Kremlin, the democratic countries have developed no technique save war. In a word, the West has created no new method, no new concept, no new technique to meet the absolutely new and different method of the Soviet countries.

Most of the Soviet's success, particularly in a country like Cuba, may be attributed to the development of a new method of intervention through an indigenous political instrument.

Neither Napoleon nor Hitler was able to develop what is tantamount to a permanent Fifth Column.

Tallyrand was successful in corrupting governments in the interest of Napoleon, but Lenin and Stalin did not bother to corrupt governments. They intervened by penetrating governments; by succeeding in putting native Communists and fellow-travellers in advantageous positions.

The technique of penetration by the Communists is brilliant and has best exhibited its power in Cuba, although Red China and East Germany are splendid examples of what can be done by fanatical native sons. Hitler attempted to establish a Bund in this country for purposes of intervention but he failed to recruit more than a small corps.

Soviet Russia now has as a base a country, a government, with a seat in the United Nations and with historic and traditional influence throughout Latin America. Soviet Russia at first attempted to establish such a base in the internal affairs of the United States in Mexico.

It does not matter, even slightly, whether Fidel Castro is an idealist or a scoundrel. What does matter is that the Soviet Union has established a base for intervention in the United States and that this country has adopted a policy of non-intervention at the wrong time and concerning the wrong place. The excuse is that we shall choose our own time and place. This is problematical because Soviet Russia is intervening everywhere, all the time, as a usual technique of the permanent revolution. Thus far, we have found no answer to the Russian method.

Witnesses Convention Nov. 17-19

MINISTERS of Jehovah's Witnesses residing in this vicinity are focusing their attention on the coming convention at Broughal School, Bethlehem, Nov. 17-19.

Speaking on the theme, "Assisting One Another to do God's Will," Stephen Bortlik, the local presiding minister stated, "Millions of people pray 'Thy will be done on earth' but few realize what God's will is in these critical last days.

"Jesus foretold what it would be when he said at Matthew 24:14, 'This good news of the Kingdom will be preached in all the inhabited earth for the purpose of a witness to all nations, and then the end will come.'

"For this reason," he continued, "Jehovah's Witnesses are to be found engaging in this preaching work in 181 lands of the earth. The assembly will assist many more to know and to do God's will.

"The convention program will be an extension of and a refresher for the regular training program conducted in all congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses," said Mr. Bortlik.

The main features of the convention will be a discourse on "Dedication and Baptism" at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 18 and the public Bible talk "Uniting Men in a Split-up World," at 3 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 19, Joseph Sala, district representative of the Watchtower Society, will deliver both talks.

Contract For Planes

NEW YORK (AP)—The Northrop Corp. has been awarded a $24 million contract to build 144 more T38A Talon jet trainer planes.

A spokesman for Northrup said the $14 million was the initial funding under the contract and that the trainers were expected to cost the Air Force some $64 million.

Mrs. Sloan Guest Speaker At County Demos Banquet

GRACE M. Sloan, the first woman ever to serve as state treasurer, will be one of the main speakers at the Monroe County Democratic dinner Monday night, Oct. 30 at the Kemp American Legion Post, East Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Sloan replaces State Supreme Court Justice Anne X. Alpern.

Also to address the group will be Otis Morse, state Democratic chairman.

The dinner is sponsored by the Monroe County Democratic Committee. It will begin at 7 p.m.

Miss Alpern, named to the state's high court on Sept. 6 of this year, is a candidate for a full 21-year term in the November election. She is the first woman ever named to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

On November 8, 1960, Mrs. Grace McCalmont Sloan, of Clarion, a housewife and grandmother, was elected as Pennsylvania's State Treasurer with a plurality of more than 116,000 votes. When she was inaugurated on May 1, 1961, she became the first woman ever to serve as State Treasurer.

In addition, she was the second woman in Pennsylvania history to win statewide electoral office.

Known throughout Pennsylvania as a vigorous advocate of equal opportunities for women in political office and public service, Mrs. Sloan served for four years as president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women. In 1957 she was appointed as a member of the State Employees' Retirement Board by the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Mrs. Sloan is the widow of the late John E. Sloan, who served as Sheriff of Clarion County and, from 1935 until 1955, as United States Marshal for Western Pennsylvania.

Liquor License Suspended

THE STATE Liquor Control Board yesterday announced the suspension of the liquor license of Herman Burgdorf, East Stroudsburg, RD 2, for 25 days, effective Nov. 9.

Reasons cited by the board for the suspension were permitted minors to frequent, sales to minors, permitted a minor to render service of liquor and/or beer and employ persons also employed by another licensee.

RECOGNITION—Stroudsburg was presented a safety award by the Northeastern Pennsylvania AAA after two years in which no pedestrian fatalities were recorded in the borough. Patrolman Charles Allen, of the Stroudsburg Police Department accepts the award from Wayne County Judge C. E. Bodie, official of the National Safety Council. Cpl. Thomas P. Anton of Hazleton State Police barracks also won an award as State Police safety representative in Monroe County. Clifford Cramer (extreme left) and John Hill (far right), officials of Monroe County organization of the Northeast Penna. club viewed the proceedings.

Worthington Co. Buildings Purchased By Local Men

SALE OF the buildings formerly occupied by Worthington Mower Co. on N. Second St., Stroudsburg, by the Jacobsen Manufacturing Co. of Racine, Wis., to Edward Odzer and Walter Olenick was announced yesterday. Jacobsen is the parent firm of Worthington.

A spokesman for the company said the two local men will use the property for investment purposes and will take possession on or before next Jan. 2.

A large quantity of surplus machinery and equipment has been sold by the firm to purchasers who wish to remain anonymous. An auction of the machinery and equipment will be held on the Worthington premises Nov. 15.

The company spokesman said the moving of the remaining inventory and machinery to Racine, which started on September, has been practically completed.

Olenick, a Stroudsburg Attorney, said last night that he and Odzer, Stroud Twp. businessman, are currently negotiating with several potential occupiers of the buildings. Olenick said these include an industry, a wholesale food supply house and a discount house. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Pike Tops Bond Sales; Monroe 3rd

PIKE COUNTY in northeastern Pennsylvania has attained 101.2 per cent of its 1961 sales goal for U. S. Savings Bonds, becoming the first county in the state to do so.

Donald Z. Wade, president of The Bank of Matamoras, Matamoras, and president of the Pennsylvania Bankers association, is chairman of the Pike County committee for U. S. Savings Bonds.

Sales of Series E and H Bonds in Monroe County during September were $119,250. This brings the total for the year up to $1,149,285 or 83.67 per cent of quota, reports E. H. Wyckoff county chairman of the savings bonds organization.

For Pennsylvania as a whole, September purchases of E and H bonds were $31,300,000. The total for 1961 now stands at $311,100,000 or 72.4 per cent of the states goal of $429,200,000.

10 Successful
Ten counties in Pennsylvania have achieved 75 per cent or more of their quotas, a successful pattern of performance according to Charles S. Krumrine, state chairman.

The ten leading counties with percentage of attainment are: Pike (101.2%), Greene (85.35%), Monroe (83.67%), Butler (81.43%), Forest (79.54%), Cumberland (78.63%), Elk (78.57%), Venango (77.54%), Bradford (76.54%), and Susquehanna (74.85%).

Philadelphia and Allegheny counties have achieved 68.6 per cent and 67.9 per cent of their quotas, respectively.

October has been designated as "Education Month" by the Treasury Department in recognition of the support of school officials in promoting the sale of Savings Stamps and Bonds as classroom training in thrift and citizenship. This is part of a national program observing 1961 as the 20th anniversary of the sale of the first Series E Savings Bond.

Area Aides Hear Governor Promote Tourist Industry

HERSHEY — Governor David L. Lawrence yesterday told tourist promotion leaders from all parts of Pennsylvania that "the local community, which has a sizable tourist industry, shares a partnership with state government in the promotion of that industry."

VA Aide To Visit Stroudsburg

A CONTACT representative from the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, will visit Stroudsburg on Friday. He will be at the office of the Director of Veterans Affairs, 615 Sarah St., Stroudsburg, from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

He will be available to furnish information, advice and assistance to all veterans, their dependents and beneficiaries on any of the benefits provided by the Veterans Administration Program which includes insurance, disability compensation and pension, home and business loans, medical and hospital treatment, etc.

Anyone desiring information or assistance should see the Veterans Administration Representative during his visit to Stroudsburg.

New Barricades In E. Germany

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—West Germany police reported yesterday that East German guards are setting up new barbed wire barricades along the northern part of the Iron Curtain border dividing Germany.

Opposite the checkpoint of Helmstedt, police said, the East Germans are erecting a second barbed wire fence about 150 yards east of the fence marking the actual border.

61 Pints Of Blood Donated In Drive

JOSEPH DeRenzi, chairman of the recent visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile, sponsored by the Monroe County Chapter, has announced that the visit resulted in the collection of 61 pints of blood. Altogether, 69 persons presented themselves as donors, but there were eight rejections.

DeRenzi noted that, although the visit did not attain its quota of 125 pints, the number of donors was substantially above some former visits. The chairman hopes to improve the number of donations at subsequent visits with added publicity and personal appeals to individuals and organizations.

Next Visit Nov. 29

The next visit of the Bloodmobile in the area will be on Wednesday, Nov. 29, under the leadership of the Rev. Harold Eaton, pastor of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church. He will organize all of the Methodist churches in the area in support of the program. Details on this visit will be announced.

The Monroe County Chapter, American Red Cross, lauded the assistance of officials of the Central Labor Union Club for the use of its facilities for the visit on October 20.

Spanking Here To Stay; Teeners Okay It

By Eugene Gilbert
President, Gilbert Youth
Research, Inc.

THIS may wind up hurting you young people more than it does me, but it appears the wood shed is here to stay.

We questioned more than a thousand teen-agers across the land and discovered most of them were in favor of spanking as a means of discipline, felt their behavior had improved as a result of being spanked, and didn't intend to spare the rod on their own children.

Speaking from experience, 17-year-old Margaret Gray of Portland, Ind., gave a typical response: "I know it helped me to realize I was wrong, and it also helped me remember to be good."
Only 25 percent of the boys and 21 percent of the girls were opposed to spanking, mostly for reasons similar to that of Stephen Alter, 17, of Newton, Mass.: "It only gives the kids fear, not respect."

The teen-agers were sharply divided, however, as to whether teachers should be allowed to spank unruly students. Eighty per cent of the girls were against it, 76 per cent of the boys in favor of it.

"They take the place of parents," argued Bill Sitko, 14, of Glassport, Pa. "It tends to make a child more rebellious and anti-school," reasoned Helen Loehr, 17, of New York.

Most Have Been Spanked
All except 13 per cent of those who had been spanked (and 83 per cent of them had been) felt they deserved it, and they were about equally divided between boys and girls.

"I must have deserved it or I wouldn't have gotten it," said Marcelene Ann Wilmoth, 16, of Bellington, W. Va. Others, like
Susan Gitter, 18, of Mattapan, Mass., had similar respect for their parents' judgment. "My parents never spanked on false charges," said Susan.

Sixty-four per cent of the boys and 57 per cent of the girls said their behavior had improved as a result of the spankings, which were administered for a wide variety of reasons.

Judy John, 15, of Bellefonte,
Pa., was spanked for being sassy;
Gloria Jean Fador, 15, of Bellington, W. Va., got a licking when she knocked over the china closet;
and Nancy Ann Myers, 17, of Crawfordsville, Ind., remembers a spanking she got when she was four years old and decided to sit on the railroad tracks.

The majority of the teen-agers (71 per cent of the boys and 63 per cent of the girls) see no harm in spanking, and 69 per cent of the girls said they intend to spank their own children.

An Alternative
Among those who disagreed with this theory, 53 per cent said they felt taking away privileges would be more effective. This

A good spanking has helped many a teen-ager.

method also was favored by 47 per cent of the total survey group as the best alternative to spanking. Eighteen per cent suggested punishment in some other form, and 15 per cent said it would be better simply to talk things over with the errant child.

Only 15 per cent of the teenagers recall their childhood spankings (administered mostly between the ages of 10 and 12) with terror. Most of them recall the experiences only with some degree of displeasure. Sheila Abrams, 16, of Philadelphia, was an exception. Said she:

"Whenever my mother loses her temper, everyone is terrified."

Africans Demand Official Boycott

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)
—A group of black African nations yesterday readied a demand for a sweeping political and economic boycott of South Africa in reproach for its white supremacist policies.
South African Foreign Minister
Eric Louw warned he would fight any attempt to isolate his country. He threatened to expose his main accusers as the real violators of the human rights clause in the U.N. Charter.

Lowe launched a biting attack on those spearheading the reprisal action against his government's racial policies, as the 101-nation Special Political Committee opened debate on the explosive issue of apartheid in South Africa.
The debate promised to be stormy as the 27-nation African group sought support for a resolution which would cut South Africa off from all trade and diplomatic relations with the rest of the world.

Youths Of 16 Up Resent 'Lost' Status

By Lydia Bickford
(Gilbert Youth Service)

THE "lost" generation isn't just a page in the history of the roaring '20s.
It's a current phenomenon of the cold war age, which is fast aging some 12 million youngsters in their late teens, without offering them a chance to act their age.

Officials at the National Council on Crime and Delinquency are concerned about this group. They point out that community services and agencies concentrate primarily on the younger child. After 16, he is the forgotten teen-ager.
Most of the dollars spent on research, diagnosis and treatment of emotional problems and behavior disorders are spent on those below 16.

Youth programs too concentrate on the younger teen-ager, nor would their programs have much appeal for the older group without considerable re-vamping.

Moreover, the years devoted to higher education barricade the student from the practical world, and unintentionally prolong his adolescence.

The adult world urges patience.
Wait till you grow up... wait till you get a degree... wait till you're old enough.
But the nuclear world is in a hurry, and the young people can't wait.

Some In Trouble
Some get into trouble. And here again their age hurts them, points out Roy Scannell consultant at the Council. They're likely to be sent off to prison because reformatories and training centers are geared for younger offenders.
Little is done to rehabilitate the older law breaker.

Some, aware of their doubtful status as not-children, not-adults, would like to talk over their frustrations with an expert. But except for private psychologists and psychiatrists, there are few counselling services for the older youngster.

Many who are not in college would like jobs—jobs with a future. But there aren't too many of that kind for the untrained, and where they exist, it's hard for the teen-ager to ferret them out unaided.

When and how to fulfill their service obligations—and what to do while waiting to fulfill them—completes the vicious circle which wraps around the 18-and 19-year-olds.

Scannell has no sweeping, nation-wide programs to offer as help for the baffled teen-agers, but instead suggests each com-

Lend Muscle, Skill To Aid Hospital

(Gilbert Youth Service)

THE young victims of a motorcycle crash were brought to the emergency room of a suburban New Jersey hospital. While lacerations were stitched and broken bones put into casts, a pair of equally young hospital helpers assisted the doctor, and later wheeled the stretchers upstairs to hospital beds.

These helpers make up a volunteer service run by teen-age boys who serve as junior corps-men at Morristown Memorial Hospital. Believed to be the only one of its kind in the country, the new volunteer unit has been hard at it every afternoon after school since last winter.
Their muscles come in handy when patients are learning to walk again, or are being helped out of ambulances. Seemingly indefatigable, they are all over the 250-bed hospital, bringing out oxygen tents, putting up traction equipment, and moving patients by stretcher and wheelchair to treatment areas.

Exceeds Number
Applications for the new group far exceeded the number needed —22—when the call went out for junior corps members. The boys, who are 15 to 19, appear promptly after school to put on their air-force blue shirts with a junior corpsman insignia written on the pocket. They work from 3:30 to 7, and no sooner have they arrived than the switchboard begins paging them for help in any part of the hospital.

Few of the boys joined the corps because they planned a medical career. They just want to feel useful. Said one, "Now I don't have to wonder what I'll do afternoons after school."

The boys work in pairs, with alternates on call, and receive an intensive program before they come on duty.

Community sift through its resources, and see what is really available for its older youngsters. Local businessmen can be put to work digging up promising jobs, counselling and guidance services can be developed for this group.
Volunteer activities of adult pur-posefulness can be opened to students.

Dear Abby

He's Not Of Age Yet!

Dear Abby: Our 15-year-old son worked during his summer vacation. He delivered for a drug store at night, and took care of the neighbors' lawns during the days. He saved about $300.00, and wants to buy an old wreck of a car with it. His Dad saw the car and said it wasn't safe to drive. Besides, his grades are just average, and we don't want him to have a car. He says he earned the money himself, and should be able to do what he wants with it. Is he right or are we?

SONNY'S FOLKS

Dear Folks: As parents you should have better judgement than your 15-year-old son. Don't permit him to get an "old wreck of a car" if you feel he shouldn't have it. If he wanted to spend all his money on pie, and eat himself sick, would you let him just because it was "his" money?

Dear Abby: I am 75 year old. Your stories about the "whistler" gave me a glow. But I have one that tops them all.

One morning my phone rang. I said, "Hello." A gentleman said, "We are testing the line, Madame, will you please whistle a few notes into your telephone?" I whistled a few notes. Then he asked, "Will you please step back a few feet and whistle the same notes again?" I complied. Then he said, "Now step a few feet to the right of your phone and whistle them again." I did. Then he said, "Thank you, Madame, you will receive your package of bird seed in the morning." And he hung up. I can laugh about it now, but I certainly felt like an old fool.

M. F. E.

Dear Abby: I am a high school girl who gets mostly A's. Some of my close friends always ask me if I can copy my homework. I don't want to lose their friendship, but I don't think it's fair that I should sit home doing homework while they're out somewhere, and then give them my answers. Can you tell me how to handle this problem so I won't appear to be mean and selfish?

STUDENT

Dear Student: Handling out homework is a poor way to show friendship. If your "friends" don't do the work themselves, when test time comes, they'll be stuck. Tell them firmly that you are sorry but can't do their work for them. If you lose their "friendship" because of this, it was a shallow friendship from the start.

Confidential To Jeff: Watch out! When that girl selects her target, she was Mrs. it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Burrus Named To Dean's List

JOHN E. BURRUS, 400 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, is among 15 undergraduates at the Rutgers University College of Agriculture, New Brunswick, N.J., who have been named to the Dean's List for high scholastic standing during the 1960-61 academic year.

To be eligible for the Dean's List, College of Agriculture students must maintain a grade average of not less than "3" in one course per term and not less than "2" in all others. A perfect grade is "1".

Buck Hill Girl Gains Test Honors

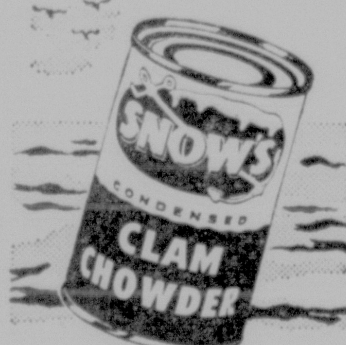

MISS Rosamond Cross, head of The Baldwin School, Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, has announced that Miss Carol Edgerton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edgerton of Buck Hill Falls, has received a commendation for her outstanding work in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

The nationally competitive examination had 40,000 candidates from Pennsylvania.

Bicycle Exports

COVENTRY, England (AP) — British bicycle manufacturers announced that August exports to the United States of 67,917 machines worth $22,709 pounds ($1,463,750) were the largest for any month in the past three years.

Mountain YF To Honor Memory Of Hammaraskjold

NEWFOUNDLAND — The memory of Dag Hammaraskjold will be honored by the Greentown-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship with the sending of a donation to CARE in his name.

The group voted unanimously to honor the late Secretary-General of the United Nations in this manner, during the meeting at Hemlock Grove Church, Greentown.

Martin McLain, of Greentown, spoke on the theme "He who lives by the sword dies by the sword," discussing "a code of living that calls for wearing a chip on your shoulder."

Martin was introduced by the Rev. James Jeffers. Donna Stevens read the scripture lesson and Jane Beehn gave a reading, "Forgive Us Our Trespases."

There was a discussion of the MYF Fund during the business session at which Donna Bartleson presided. It was announced that anyone wishing pledge envelopes may contact Connie Keiter, Executive Session.

There will be an executive session at the home of Donna Bartleson, Angels, on November 1 at 7:30 p.m.

The MYF will meet at Hemlock Grove for a snack supper on October 29 at 6 p.m., followed by an evening of collecting for the Children's Home at Binghamton. This is an annual project of the youth group. They will collect and then return to the church at 9:15 p.m.

It was reported that 14 members attended the planning and fellowship retreat at the LaAnna Youth Hostel. Plans for the remainder of the year were completed by the group and will be announced.

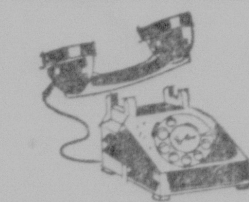

GOP Aspirant For Pittsburgh Mayor

PITTSBURGH (AP) — William J. Crehan is trying to do what no Republican has accomplished since 1929—win election as mayor of Pittsburgh.

A political newcomer, Crehan will oppose Democratic Mayor Joseph M. Barr in the Nov. 7 election.

Crehan, 63, an insurance agent, is up against big odds in his quest for the chief executive of the city of the state's second largest city.

It is freely predicted among political observers that Barr will win his first four-year term by a wide margin.

Republicans, Bipartisans Get Together At Hoedown

A HALLOWEEN Hoedown brought together more than 60 members of the Republican party at Vacation Valley recently. Bipartisan guests also attended the affair.

Talent, dancing and off-the-cuff brief speeches by nominees and officials were balanced on the program. Mrs. Nancy Shukatis, Middle Smithfield Township committeewoman, was hostess for the GOP sponsored affair. Fran and Jack Shinn placed the facilities of the resort dining hall at the disposal of the guests. Fran Shinn acted as master of ceremonies.

Johnny Shinn represented the National Trio and performed a cha-cha. Debbie Shinn complete in uniform twirled a chrome baton to martial music.

Square dancing was on the agenda with Arch and Myra

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1961

March 21 to April 20 (Aries): Excellent period to get in extra earnings for your favorite pastime, but, of course, not for regular matters. Good will pay, so does your ability to create energy.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus): You can do more with this day than estimated. Vital factors: Disposition toward work and added chores, steady purpose, reserving energies at night times. Strong Venus aspect urges your love affairs.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini): Look out for those tricky little spots not clear until we are upon them. Don't try to sway by sheer force, but apply it where due. Fact, your imagination and sensitivity heightened.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer): We often think some things "don't matter." Actually, everything we think and do reflects the direction which we are going, leading others, and will be happy in our own hands. The good life (A.M.I.).

July 22 to August 21 (Leo): Where you find discussion, reason it out, don't become agitated and lose the advantage your strain self gains. Mostly on your own today to make or break it for yourself. We NEED Luck smile.

August 22 to September 21 (Virgo): Be advised: Don't make any statements, then finding it difficult to straighten things out. Some irritating situations. Whether you handle all adversity is strictly up to you.

September 22 to October 21 (Libra): When a matter can be avoided, it is best to do so promptly, and be less crowded later when unexpected items appear. You may see some of the "Pit in Demand" News of interest.

October 22 to November 21 (Scorpio): If eager to get after your affairs, you will find action and excitement on the horizon. You do not have all necessary facts, but ask, investigate. Your artistic touch appreciated. Your artistic touch appreciated.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius): Cheerful attitude will carry far, but also have knowledge of what you are doing and firm will to know. Your work and issues may need trimming, tuning, or refitting a current methods.

December 22 to January 21 (Capricorn): Believe upon others can misdirection. You usually are not, but keep your natural gifts up to par. Good warnings necessary new plans.

January 22 to February 19 (Aquarius): A creative period, but it will not cause strain, over-excitement. Some public affairs, change-over, have foreseen fresh advantages, don't let sentimentality mislead you.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces): Better than average. Indications, but certain confusion and change due to variety of minds and emotions. Practical deliberation consolidated, well-directed effort, will achieve.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries): VITAL BORN TODAY are blessed by a generous God with a host of the top-notch qualities that are found in all good things. To beware of scattering energies, trying too many diverse directions, and not following up any one through to the rewards position. In your talent, control your perception, versatility, control your internal desires and aims to improve conditions, don't let your appreciation in. Heavily favoring category. Oversee, delaying the beginning of important matters requiring self to strain later. Go for energy action. Don't drive too hard nor too far in any direction. curial pleasures passions. Early Sowing Of Annuals

BY GEORGE ABRAHAM

SOW SEEDS NOW: It's news to many gardeners that seeds of many annuals and perennials can be successfully planted in the fall and produce better plants than those produced from spring-sown seed. Many annuals naturally self-sow in fall and grow lustily in the spring.

The most reliable annuals for planting now are those self-sowing types, and these include sweet alyssum, baby's breath, Bachelor's button, cleome, flowering tobacco (Nicotiana), Kochia (Mexican fire bush), larkspur (in all shades), morning glories, petunias, portulaca, calendula, poppies, sunflowers, annual phlox, Pinks, snapdragons, cosmos, four o'clock, marigolds, clarkia and dozens of others.

There are dozens of herb (pronounced Herb or Erbi) seeds which can be sown before the ground freezes for a big crop next year. These include angelica, bergamot, sage, coriander, horehound, Lavender, Lemon balm, Parsley, Sweet Cicely, Sweet Marjoram and thyme, to name a few. You can also sow seeds of perennials now, including Columbine, Camellia, Coreopsis, Delphinium, Digitalis, Gaillardia, Gypsophila, Hollyhock, Poppy, Primrose, Scabiosa, Shasta Daisy and Sweet William.

CLIMBING STRAWBERRIES: Home owners who bought the "climbing strawberry" are now baffled as to what care it needs for winter. This item must be taken down and given the same care that ordinary strawberries receive or the plants will winter-kill. Place the runners and vines on the ground and cover with straw. Will gardeners who have raised the Climbing strawberry please write and tell me how you winterize your plant? Also, please tell me what success you have had raising this novelty. Is it worth the price you paid for it?

GIANT REED: Want a novelty to try next year? Grow the Giant Reed (Arundo donax), a plant native to the Mediterranean, but which will take weather as low as 24 degrees below zero. Plant grows 16 to 18' tall, has stalks resembling tropical bamboo. Plants die down to ground each year, sending up new shoots from the base each year. Try this item for a tropical effect.

CUT FLOWER TRICKS: Garden mums often wilt when used in an arrangement. Don't forget to pound the stem ends and arrange the flowers in hot water (it's thinner than cold water and goes up stems easier). Peony foliage makes a fine filler for fall arrangements, blending in well with the various colored mums.

MICE IN LAWNS: Mice and moles often frequent lawns in fall. Control consists of using traps set in runways, also poison baits hidden out of reach of pets and children. Keep grass away from the base of your fruit trees and shrubs, since mice prefer to work in such areas and will girdle the trees. Place fine mesh hardware cloth around my young trees, and stoker ashes are placed at the base to further discourage rodent activity.

SACRED LILY OF INDIA: This close relative of the Calla lily is listed as Hydrosme rivieri (also Amorphophallus), producing a black calla-like blossom in winter, or in spring. Hydrosme likes a loose, humusy soil indoors; outdoors it can be grown in the garden all summer. In the fall the plant is dug up and potato-like is kept dry until January or February, then forced to bloom. During the resting season (fall and early winter) the tuber is kept dry. Do not confuse Lily of the Nile (Agapanthus) with Sacred Lily of India (Hydrosme).

HOUSE PLANT PESTS: If you don't like to have chemicals around for licking insects on house plants, then try dipping your plants into a pail of soapy water. Turn the plant upside down and immerse in the mixture for a few seconds. To keep loose soil from spilling out as you turn the plant over, hold crumpled paper or a cardboard disc firmly over the soil around the plant.

You can make the dip more effective by adding some insecticide to the soapy water. Wear rubber gloves or keep your hands out of the dip. If you use pesticides, Pushbutton sprays contain pesticides which do a fine job killing most house plant pests. Syringing foliage plants with lukewarm water removes aphids, mealybugs, thrips, spider mites and other pests.

THE HOME GREENHOUSE: If you have a small greenhouse and want to treat your soil against harmful fungi, weeds and weed seeds, then try using vapam soil fumigant. It kills damping-off organisms, the bane of commercial and amateur growers. It can be used for fumigating potting soils, too.

Spread the soil in layers 6 inches deep, and sprinkle vapam on each layer, using a sprinkling can. We use it at the rate of one quart per 100 sq. ft., and this is sealed in by watering immediately after applying. This material doesn't have the disadvantage of being odorous. As soon as the soil has dried out you can start to plant without fear of burning.

DIGGING GLAD CORMS: Glads are not hardy, although sometimes a bulb will live in the ground all winter. Dig your corms as soon as the tops start to die back, after digging, cut off the top flush with the corm, then spread them out in a thin layer to dry. Store for 3 or 4 weeks indoors in a warm, airy spot, and after this curing period the old corm and roots can easily be removed from the base of the new corm.

Do NOT remove the husks, as these protect the corm from shrivelling in storage. Store in thin layers in wire trays or onion sacks in a 40 to 50 deg. basement. It's a good idea to dust the corms with DDT to keep thrips out.

SWEET POTATOES: These make a fine vine indoors, but if you've had trouble getting one to send out sprouts, blame it on sprout-inhibitors used by commercial growers who treat the vegetables so they won't sprout in storage. Sooner or later the chemical will wear off, and your tuber will sprout.

Emergency Plans

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—The National Milk Marketing Board says it has drawn up plans for delivering emergency supplies of powdered milk if Soviet atmospheric nuclear tests unleash a heavy radioactive fallout over Scotland.

Accused Youth Dies Of Wounds

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—A teen-age boy, charged with killing two former friends because they picked on him, died yesterday of bullet wounds suffered when he was flushed from an Adirondack Mountain hideout eight days ago.

The boy is Charles E. Warner, 16, of Bouverstown.

Police said Warner shot Howard Lindstedt and Philip Lindroth, both 17, in an alley in Cooperstown Oct. 14.

He then drove to a cabin in the Adirondacks, where he was found by police the next day. Troopers said they wounded him when he attempted to flee in his car.

GSA Rejects Company's Bid

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority yesterday rejected a bid by Vertex Construction Co. of New York to build a nuclear research and study building at Pennsylvania State University because the firm was inexperienced in such construction.

It awarded the job to the second low bidder, Earl L. Crump, Inc., Chambersburg, for $1,150,800.

Malayan Plane Reported Down

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—A Malayan air force plane with five persons aboard is missing and presumed down in mountainous terrain north of here.

The aircraft went in search of a group of 70 hikers missing on a weekend mountain climbing jaunt.

The hikers—80 boys and a girl—emerged from the jungle Tuesday and returned to Kuala Lumpur, saying they had been lost in search of the plane.

Question Box

By George Abraham

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: D. E. of Augusta: "I wish you could tell me how to have my roses from winter damage. Each winter I lose 3 or 4 in spite of the protection I give them. Is straw best, or should I wrap each plant with plastic sheets?"

While many tricks are used to winterize roses, it should be mentioned that there is not one that is fool proof. Some gardeners take a lot of pains to protect roses and still lose some. Other gardeners figure they're going to lose a few roses regardless, so they don't bother to cover theirs in any way.

There's no doubt about it, more roses survive winter when given some protection, but this protection is no guarantee of survival, mainly because the rose plant is not hardy enough to withstand some of the punish our climate sometimes offers.

Folks who cover their roses too early do the plant more harm than good. Here's why: First, the canes must be toughened up by three or four frosts. If you cover soft, unhardened canes before they "ripen" by frosts, such canes won't be able to take it when real cold hits.

After the canes have been toughened, then your job is to prevent freezing and thawing spells from reaching the canes. Fluctuations of temperature can be the real killer of rose bushes.

So, in a nutshell, here's how to winterize roses. Rake up fallen leaves and burn. Spray foliage with Captain or sulfur, and dust the soil beneath. Cut back canes of hybrid teas, grandifloras and floribundas to 24" to 30". Then mound up soil about the canes to a height of 10 to 12 inches.

Do not use earth from between the bushes (may expose the roots); rather haul it in from another area in a region of below zero, extra insulation is achieved by covering the mounded bushes with straw.

W. S. of Clearfield: "My geraniums were still nice this fall so I brought them indoors and hope to grow them again for next Memorial Day. Is there anything wrong with making them bloom again?"

Some folks do bloom them again indoors all winter, although it's quite a strain on the plants. Also, they're apt to be too tall and leggy by the time spring rolls around. If you keep them pinched back, they will make bushier plants, with fewer flowers.

Try taking tip cuttings and rooting these in sand or water for new plants. Or you can place some plants in perforated plastic bags and keep them in the cellar until spring when they are cut back and started up again in florists pots. Forcing them to bloom again indoors is quite a strain.

D. E. of Hackettstown: "What makes the football mums shatter the minute you touch them? Are the flowers stale?"

No. Large mums will shatter easily when touched heavily. Some varieties are worse than others. When shattering starts, light a candle and allow a few drops of wax to fall at the base of the remaining petals. This seals them in place.

You Buy Your Suits Standing Up...But You Spend 80% of Your Time Sitting!

When you buy a suit in a store, you try it on standing up straight and stiff. You are measured for alterations in the same posture. Yet the irony is that you spend more than 80% of your working hours sitting, slouching or relaxing, to say nothing of the time you spend sitting in cars, trains and planes.

As far as we know, the only suit consciously designed for sitting as well as standing is Worsted-Tex.

The suit is adroitly tailored to give you the extra sitting room you need at the crotch, under the armholes and across the back. This extra sitting space is hidden. You cannot see it when you stand. But it is a suit that really gives you extraordinary comfort for the life you really live!

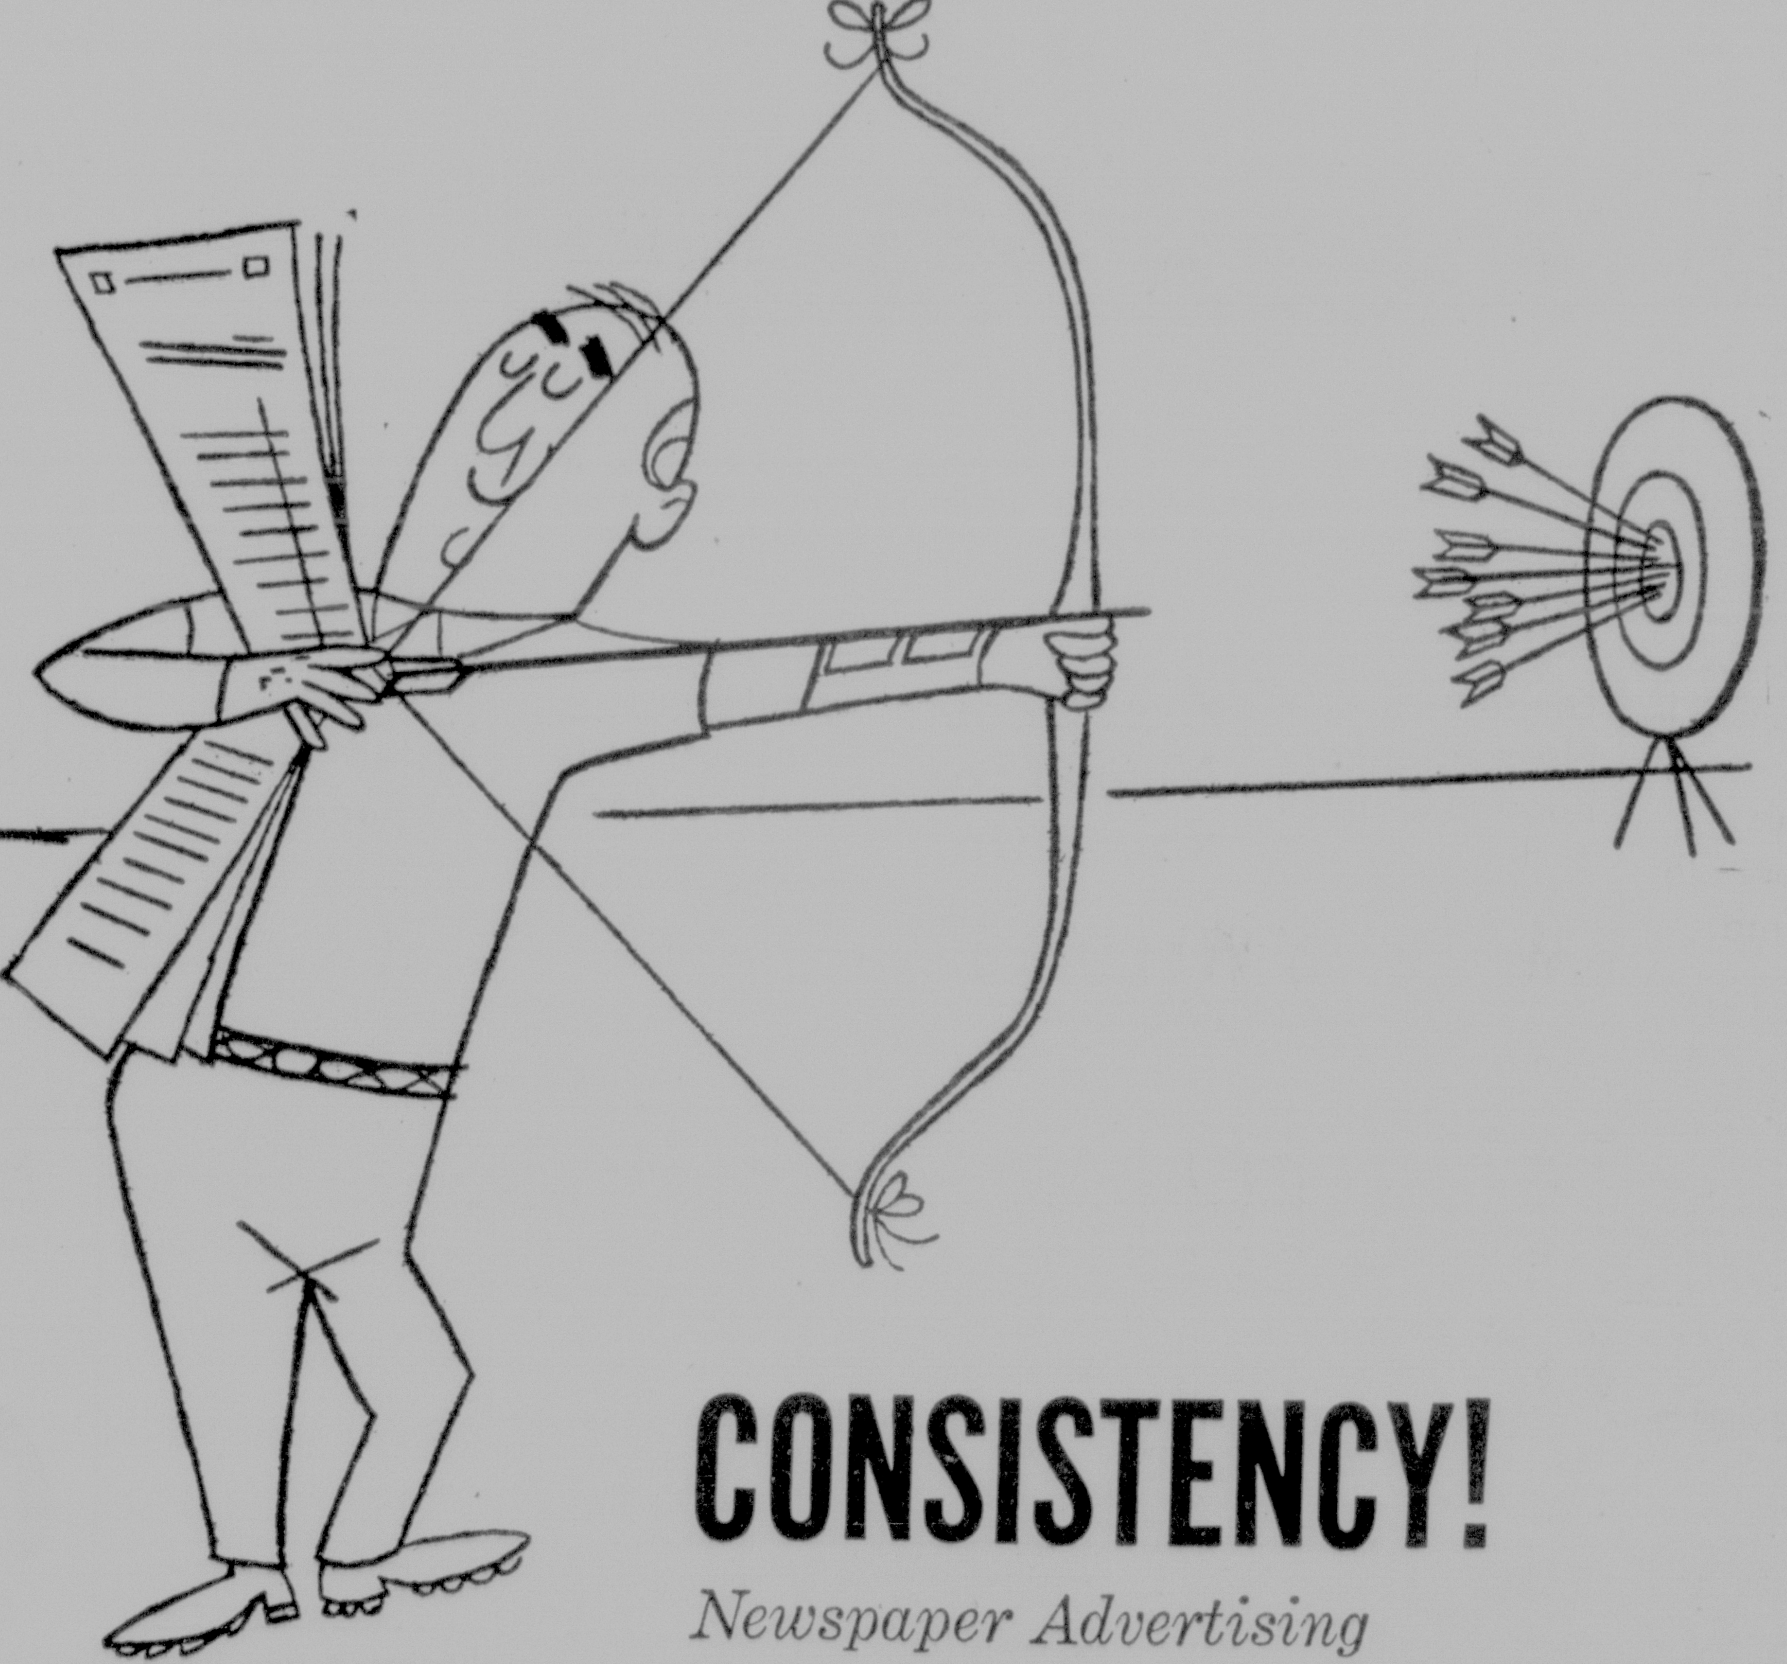

This is one of the costly design details that has earned for Worsted-Tex its top rating as one of America's really great suits, regardless of price—and why we feature the brand with such confidence.

Newspaper Advertising Hits the Mark with a Large and Constant Audience

There's nothing hit-or-miss about the newspaper audience—it's a constant audience that varies little throughout the year. That's because newspaper circulation remains constant with little variation from month to month. There is no summer slump in newspaper reading habits. Furthermore, readers can pick their own time—day or night—to enjoy the paper. And they do—over 107,000,000 of them every day in the U. S. For sure-fire results, advertise consistently in the daily newspaper.

The Daily Record

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Are you more interested in mice than men? Judging from the response I've had to my own problem with mice, you are. And I must say some of your suggestions have been most helpful — and some of them well!

To share the results to date: (1) A clipping of a column by Nick Kenny who thinks he's got a problem with only one mouse. However, he has come up with some interesting suggestions about why mice are now harder to capture than in the "olden" days. He is of the opinion that the mice watching all the TV cartoon where the mice are the heroes always winning out over the cat, have learned a trick or two.

Which may be so, although unless they've learned to turn on the TV when I'm out of the house, the only programs they can watch at my house are the late-late show, Jack Paar, or Sunrise Semester.

(2) A telephone call from a member of the Leisure Hour Club who suggested either (a) calling an exterminator, which might work once winter is fully here and I'm sure no more mice are about to give up their burrows for mine, or (b) sending for an appropriate booklet from the Department of Agriculture. Having raised my children by those booklets including the Child from One to Six, it might be helpful with mice, too. Anyway, it was mighty comforting to know she'd spent some of her leisure worrying about me.

(3) Most difficult to implement suggestion to date: a typed note "Why don't you try the advice in the song 'It's Nice to Have a Man Around the House' for your mouse problem," which might have been some help if the coward had signed it.

(4) Most irritating suggestion from one Roderick MacLeod: "Why don't you try eating a lot of strong cheese and then wait by the mouseholes with bated breath?" I'll bait him!

Legion Aux. Has Report On State Camp

Miss Barbara Albert, who represented the local American Legion Aux. at the Keystone Girls State Camp at Shippensburg State College last summer, spoke on her experiences at the October meeting of the American Legion Aux.

The camp is conducted as a practical example of government on town, state and national levels. Elections are held following political campaigns for office.

In addition there are classes on pertinent subjects including Civil Defense. A camp newspaper added to their experience of how the nation works. Miss Albert said she had learned a great deal about the history of the country and the way the government works at the camp.

She and her mother, Mrs. Marion Albert, were among the guests at the covered dish supper which preceded the meeting. Also guests at the supper were Caroline Kremposky, director of Center Valley; Mrs. Flossie Seip of Allentown.

Reports were read by delegates to the Four County Council. Mrs. Vincent Marek, chairman of the auditing committee, also reported.

Mrs. Kremposky installed the following officers: president, Mrs. Clarence Plattenburg; first vice president, Mrs. Vincent Marek; second vice president, Mrs. George Mosher; recording secretary, Mrs. H. B. Heffer; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. W. Reid; treasurer, Mrs. R. C. Bliz; junior chaplain, Mrs. John Becker; historian, Mrs. Henry Baustein; and sergeants-at-arms, Mrs. J. Koppenhaver and Mrs. J. Schmidt.

She also presented a past president's pin to Mrs. Alfred Reisenwitz, retiring president.

Mrs. Plattenburg announced chairman for Auxiliary programs. All Council and Department obligations were ordered paid, and a needy veteran and his family were reported to the committee.

In charge of the supper were: Mrs. George Eppley, Mrs. Joseph Altomose, Mrs. Orville Cole and Mrs. Lulu Miller. The next meeting will be Nov. 2.

Dinner In November For Pocono Council

Mt. Pocono — Plans for the November dinner meeting of the Pocono Mountain Council of the publican Women were made at the meeting of the executive board held Tuesday morning at 9:45 a.m. at the home of Mrs. H. John Davis, Mount Pocono.

The dinner meeting will be held at the Antlers Hotel, Swiftwater, on Nov. 21 at 6:30 p.m. when Rev. Karl Keller, pastor of Kokee Chapel will be a guest. Convention reports will be given by Mrs. Anthony Costa and Mrs. Mervin F. Fontanella with special music by Mrs. Robert Altomose, soloist and Mrs. Donald Robbins Sr., accompanist.

The hospitality committee with Mrs. A. George Hahn and Mrs. Anthony Costa as chairmen will be in charge of table decorations and favors. Mrs. Herbert Sharrbaugh and Mrs. Costa will be in charge of reservations which must be in by Nov. 16.

Also discussed by the board were plans for the Christmas Party to be held on Dec. 19 at 8 p.m. at the home of Miss H. Eloise Bryan in Swiftwater.

Since this was the first meeting of the newly-elected officers, duties of officers were reviewed. Mrs. Fontanella, president, announced the following appointments:

assistant vice president, Miss Hazel Hartman; assistant treasurer, Miss June Heddy; assistant corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. L. Rhoads; assistant financial secretary, Mrs. John Bowman; assistant political activities chairman, Mrs. Clair Witt; assistant publicity chairman, Mrs. Shirley O'Boyle.

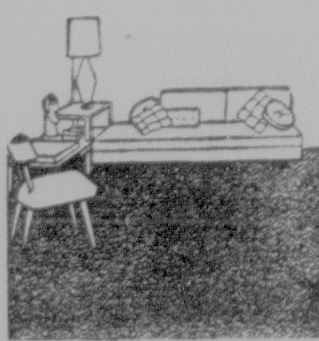

The executive committee, serving as a ways and means committee, also discussed a money-making project.

A yearly calendar to be submitted to the entire council for approval was studied.

Mrs. Davis served coffee and rolls at the meeting which ended at noon.

Area Scouts Named For Round-Up

Five Girl Scouts from Monroe County are among the 28 Senior Girl Scouts selected to represent the new Seneca Pocono Girl Scout Council at the third national Round-up to be held at Button Bay State Park, Vermont, in July, 1962.

They were selected after a weekend at Camp Archbald where they were trained for camping and outdoor skills as well as the ability to work individually and in a group, from double the number of Scouts nominated.

The Round-up will bring together approximately 10,000 girls and adults from the United States and foreign countries. Local Scouts who will represent the Seneca Pocono Girl Scout Council, which includes Lackawanna, Monroe, Pike, Susquehanna, Wayne and part of Wyoming Counties include:

Susan Baker and Mary Ann Fish, East Stroudsburg; Harriet Horn, Tannersville; and Ann Hart, Stroudsburg. Selected as alternates are Yohevet Geshenky of Delaware Water Gap and Cathy Snover, East Stroudsburg.

A sixth area girl selected as a delegate is Elizabeth Gilpin, of Newfoundland.

Party At Beakleyville

All members and friends of the Beakleyville Baptist Church and Sunday school are invited to attend the Halloween party at the church on Friday night at 7:30 p.m. They are urged to come in costume. Prizes will be awarded, there will be a program of games and refreshments will be served.

PTA College Night Adds Nursing

In addition to the liberal arts colleges and universities and academies who will be represented at the third annual College Night tonight, sponsored by the Monroe County Council of Parents and Teachers, three nursing schools will also send representatives.

College Night will be held tonight at 7:30 at the Pocono Mountain Joint School in Swiftwater. There is no fee charged and all parents and students in the county, interested in receiving information about colleges, are invited to attend.

Since guidance counselors from the county high schools report that nursing is a career which appeals to many high school students in the area, the committee has arranged to have them represented. Abington Abington Memorial Hospital; Philadelphia; Hahnemann Hospital of Scranton; and St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem, will send representatives. Mrs. David Nelson, chairman, reported.

New Fire Co. Aux. Plans For Masquerade

Pocono Summit — The new Aux. of the Pocono Summit Fire Co. will hold a masquerade dance on Saturday night at the Community Hall with judging of costumes at 9 p.m. and an orchestra for square dancing. There will be refreshments and the public is invited.

The auxiliary is assisting the newly-organized Fire Company to raise funds for a firehall, fire truck and other equipment for use in the area.

At their meeting this week, the auxiliary elected the following officers: Mrs. James Smith, president; Mrs. Roy Stout, vice president; Mrs. Mark Hay, secretary; Mrs. Albert Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth Hay, financial secretary; Mrs. Edward Bobby, good will chairman; Mrs. Joseph Freach, corresponding secretary.

The auxiliary also planned a benefit for Nov. 28 at 8 p.m. to be held at the Community Hall.

Scouts Plan Cookout; Party For Pre-Schoolers

Newfoundland — Laurel Girl Scout Troop One will have a nature outing and cookout today, meeting at the legion hall for the event which will be held from 4 to 7 p.m.

All girls working on their first or second class or tenderfoot rank requirements will be given the opportunity to pass their nature and out-of-doors requirements.

Each girl should bring a hand-book, length of rope and her own supper.

The troop will sponsor a Halloween party on October 27 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the legion hall for all pre-school, and first, second and third grade children. Costumes — will be worn by all, and there will be games and refreshments.

In charge of decorations is the Rosebud Patrol including Pamela Eggert, Kathy Smith, Jean Ann Nolan, Gail Butler, Margie Gearhart and Ruth Ann Schoenagel.

The Busy Bees will have charge of games. This patrol includes Connie Keiter, Joyce McLain, Sharon Haag, Nancy Krieger, Nancy Haldeman and Kathy Butler.

The Skyriders will have charge of refreshments. They are Shirley Stevens, Elaine Hinton, Melissa Burdick, Joan Webster and Inger Madson.

All three patrols will assist in cleaning up in the legion hall after the party.

An open invitation to all children of the area has been extended by the scouts, who count the Halloween party among their service projects.

Install Officers At Banquet

Barrett — Officers of the American Legion Aux. of Barrett were installed at a banquet held at Pine Knob Inn, Mrs. Caroline Kremposky, the installing officer, spoke on the activities and accomplishments of the organization.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 6 when dues will be paid.

ULCW Tuesday

Tannersville — The United Lutheran Church Women of St. Paul's Church will meet on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The program, led by Doris Hallett will be based on the theme "The Race that Refused to Vanish". Hostesses will be Ella Bisbing, Hannah Shupp and Jennie Learn.

Fellowship Hayride, Services At Jail, Home

The Youth Fellowship of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, will have a hayride to Sunnybrook Camp, Echo Lake, leaving from the church on Lackawanna Ave., at 7:45 p.m. Friday night. A song-fest with Mrs. Helen Petecovic at the organ will be held. An outdoor hot dog roast will be featured with each teenager contributing their own hot dogs and rolls. Hot chocolate will be provided.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Heimbach will serve as chaperones with Rev. William F. Wunder driving the straw-filled truck.

The hayride was planned at a recent organization meeting when Brian Farris was elected president; Miss Linda Bosman, vice president; Miss Sally Garis, secretary; and Miss Amy Wunder, treasurer.

Next Sunday night the group will meet at the chapel at 7 p.m. and attend the county Reformation Day Service at 8 o'clock in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church in a group. Rev. Dr. James Heller, dean of Moravian College, Bethlehem, will be the speaker and a massed choir of 100 voices will sing.

On Sunday night, Nov. 5, at 7:30 the Fellowship will conduct a vesper service in the Monroe County Jail and on Nov. 12 a service for the 80 guests at the Monroe County Home, Kellersville. All youths of the parish are invited to take part in the activities.

Always something new—always something unusual, and nothing fits the latter adjective more than the framed, dried flowers from Tirol, Austria, to be found in our Gift department. They are clean, uncluttered, simple and rather rich looking with their gold moldings. In various sizes, these wall decorations are priced from 2.00 to 5.50, but one should really group the tinier ones to create an effective display.

New too, but copied from an idea as old as the hills, are the bottles, perhaps five inches long, molded to resemble a cluster of grapes. Use them as decorations on a windowsill, where they will catch the light . . . pair them with vinegar and oil on your dining table . . . combine colors, and trail pretty vines from them. Each is 75c, and the colors are blue, aqua, topaz, emerald, amethyst, and smoke.

Another "new-sy" item are the handpainted turkeys in time for Thanksgiving and Christmas. One resembles a plump turkey, at 8.50. The other two, at 8.50 and 10.00, are mallards. And what would you serve from a mallard? Why, DUCK soup, of course . . . but I'm sure vichyssoise or duck turtle would taste just as delicious.

While I was admiring the turkeys, they also brought a lavish array of freshly ticketed glassware from our receiving room: a Venetian glass console set of cranberry and crystal, the heavy center bowl flanked with birds—peacocks, I guess, trailing their plumage. This is 26.50. From West Germany come numerous pieces of handcut lead crystal, the dishes mounted high upon three-legged pedestals of brass. Some of the pedestals are formed of three fishes; some of three human forms. Prices are 25.00 and 30.00. Vases are 8.50.

New in our Budget Cotton department on the main floor is the very latest shipment of Simplicity dresses. One is a wrap style favored by many women. There are three large pearl buttons at the front waistline, and an unusual pocket that hangs free. Another is front-zipped with short sleeves, a modified sweetheart neckline, and two big pockets. A third, buttoning to below the waistline, has a yoke-like collar with a horizontal tuck that gives the appearance of a double yoke. I noted another in a ½ size, bright pink, with pea-size white dots dashed with the color, that has a full skirt, and is trimmed with smocking and rick rack. Sizes range from 12 to 20 and 14½ to 24½, but the price is a uniform, unbelievably low 2.98.

See them today, and shop every day in every department. Our Big October Sale ends Saturday at 5:30.

Hooley-Howey Wedding Party Held For 100 Guests

Miss Nina Howey, daughter of Grover Howey, of the Norris-town Hospital, and Laura Sebring, of East Stroudsburg, was married on Sept. 16 at 1 p. m. at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church to Richard Hooley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hooley, of Stroudsburg.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton performed the double ring ceremony before the candlelit altar.

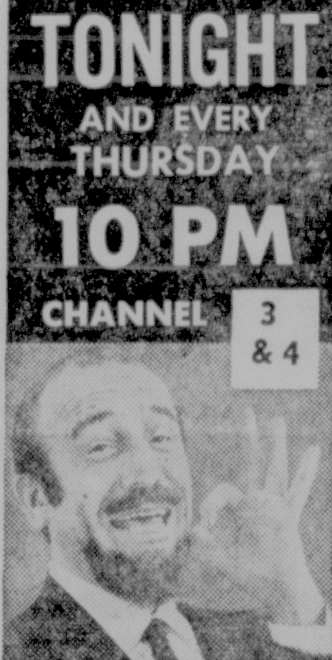

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Cleveland Howey, the bride wore a street-length dress of light blue nylon. Her necklace was of white flowers and she carried a bridal bouquet of white pompons and carnations.

Mrs. Violet Safin, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a dress of white and lavender print nylon in a street length with a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

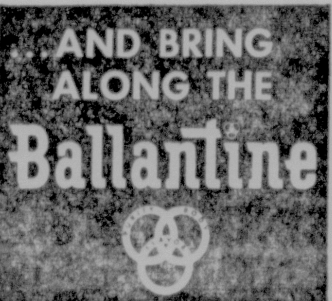

Russell Hooley, brother of the bride, was best man.

The bride's mother wore a dress of beige with blue accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore a green dress with black accessories and also a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 100 guests was held at Schaffer's Inn, East Stroudsburg. The room was decorated with white streamers and wedding bells, with bouquets of red and white rosebuds. The bride's table was set with a handmade lace tablecloth with a bouquet of red and white roses and a five-tier wedding cake, baked by the bride's cousin, Mrs. Charles La-

Mantle, Robinson Capture League Slugging Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—Outfielders Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees and Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Reds, key players in their teams' pennant success, won the 1961 major league slugging championships.

Mantle topped the American League in slugging for the third time with a .687 average, statistics computed by The Associated Press disclosed Wednesday. Robinson, in capturing the National League slugging crown for the second year in a row, amassed a .613 percentage.

Mantle accumulated 333 total bases in 514 at bats. The 30-year-old switch-hitter collected 16 doubles, 6 triples and 54 homers among his 163 hits. He was the slugging leader in 1955 with .611 and 1956 with .705.

Had 176 Hits
Last season Mantle produced the most total bases, but finished second to teammate Roger Maris in the slugging race. This year Maris, whose 61 homers set a season record, compiled the most total bases, but it was Mantle who topped the sluggers.

Robinson accounted for 334 total bases in 545 at bats. The 26-year-old right-handed swinger delivered 176 hits, including 33 doubles, 7 triples and 37 homers. In 1960 his winning slugging percentage was .535.

Slugging averages are figured by adding the total number of bases on all hits and dividing the sum by the times at bat.

Norm Cash of Detroit was runner-up to Mantle with .662. The Tiger first baseman, who led the American League in batting with a .361 average, accounted for 354 total bases in 535 trips. Cash collected 193 hits, a league high.

Jim Gentile of Baltimore connected for 314 total bases in 488 at bats for a .616 percentage to rank third. He collected 147 hits.

Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco finished second to Robinson with a .607 mark, racking up 333 total bases in 535 at bats. His 46 homers were high in the league among his output of 182 hits.

Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, holder of the slugging crown in 1959, was third at .594. His 338 total bases were the most in the league for the third straight season. He batted 603 times and had 197 hits.

Saimes Is AP's Back Of The Week

The top rusher for the Nation's No. 1 football team — fullback George Saimes of Michigan State — has been named Associated Press back of the week.

Saimes, a junior from Canton, Ohio, ran wild in the second half last Saturday to lead the Spartans to a 17-7 comeback win over Notre Dame.

He sprinted for 24 and 25 yard touchdowns runs within two minutes and 46 seconds and also escaped on a 26-yard dash to set up a field goal. Saimes collected 142 yards in 14 carries in his afternoon of glory and leads MSU in rushing with 318 yards in four games.

Best Conditioned
Although he's considered a lightweight for a big college fullback—186 pounds — Coach Duffy Daugherty declares him "the best conditioned athlete on the squad."

Saimes built up his leg muscles last summer by wearing 5½ pound weights on each ankle. This also helped the handsome, dark-haired 20-year-old of Greek descent to win the campus championship dancing "the twist."

"He's the best all-around fullback I've ever had," Daugherty enthused.

ESSC Girls Beaten 4-3 By Ursinus

PHILADELPHIA — Ursinus scored four times in the second half to whip East Stroudsburg State College in field hockey Wednesday, 4-3.

The Warriors held a 1-0 lead at the half but lost it when Ursinus' Lyn Crossley pumped in four goals in the second period.

Sandy Heffentrager, Becky Ross and Sue Schotta scored the East Stroudsburg goals.

Another sophomore, Bill Burnet, is also nearing a starting berth. Burnett, a tackle has improved vastly in the past two weeks according to Stulgaitis.

The Mountie coach was also pleased with the play of offensive tackle Bill Queenan, who played the position last week for the first time. Queenan will remain at the tackle spot on offense but will move to end on defense.

Roger Brown of the Detroit Lions is 6-feet-5 and 300 pounds. He's a defensive tackle from Maryland State.

Long And Short
The Riders run from what might be called a long and short punt formation. The tailback is five yards in back of the center with another back about two yards in front of the tailback. An end is always split with two halfbacks behind the end in a triangle arrangement.

"They can get a lot of men out for passes in a hurry," says Stulgaitis, "and they have ready-made blockers for sweeps to the side with the triangle."

Big Catty Linemen Don't Scare Mountaineer Coach

STROUD UNION High School football coach Jerry Stulgaitis is worried about defensive adjustments for Catawauqua Saturday but he is far from conceding the win to the Rough Riders.

"Even though they are unbeaten in the league," says Stulgaitis, "we feel we have a chance to win."

Stulgaitis was not awed by the size of the Catty defensive line, which has a pair of 260 pounders and a 300 plus pound middle guard. "They have some big boys," said Stulgaitis, "but they aren't the fastest players in the world."

Next to Northampton, which runs the short punt formation, Catty has probably the toughest offense to set up a defense against.

Games Booked Years Ahead

Advanced Scheduling Is NCAA's Latest Headache

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The policy-making council of the NCAA wound up its three-day fall meeting Wednesday with another major headache tossed in its lap.

After taking steps to combat gambling on college basketball games and drawing its battle lines to gain a bigger say in international basketball during the first two days, the council turned to a complaint by the Athletic Association of Western Universities (Big Five) to do something about scheduling football games far in advance.

May Increase
The Big Five pointed out that the current practice is to schedule games 6 to 8 years in advance and that things may come to a point where games are scheduled 10 to 12 years in advance.

Its appeal pointed out that the practice decreases the chances of two teams being closely competitive, that athletic policies of universities change slowly although conditions change fast, that coaches find themselves involved in games where they have no right of choice and the addition of schools to conferences and their subsequent scheduling is difficult.

The Big Five asked the council to devise ways and means of decreasing the degree of the advance scheduling. The council appointed a committee to look into the matter.

Otherwise, the council cleaned up routine business. It endorsed the NCAA's 16-point program to combat gambling and pledged to do all possible to implement it.

Chicago's Santo Picked As National's Best Sophomore

By SHERIDAN SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs was chosen National League sophomore of the year for 1961 Wednesday in the annual Associated Press poll.

The hard-hitting third baseman, who is being compared with former Chicago favorite Stan Hack, received 54 of the 166 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Association participating in the balloting. Pitcher Ray Sadecki of the St. Louis Cardinals was runner-up with 29.

The 21-year-old Santo was one of the bright lights in the Cubs' dismal season, batting .284 and slamming 23 home runs. A right-handed swinger, he drove in 83 runs and also scored 83 times. His 164 hits included 31 doubles and 6 triples.

In his 1960 rookie season, Santo didn't join the Cubs until the end of June. Called up from the Houston farm club, the 6-foot, 195-pound Seattle resident broke into the lineup with five hits in a doubleheader. The third base job was his and he wound up with a .251 average.

Sadecki, a promising southpaw, posted a 14-10 won-lost record for the Cardinals while compiling a 3.71 earned run average. The 20-year-old hurler completed 13 of his 31 starts.

First baseman Gordie Coleman of Cincinnati was third in the voting, being named on 22 ballots.

Ex-Columnist Dead At 58

CLEVELAND (AP) — Edward Joseph McAuley, 58, sports columnist for the Cleveland News for more than 20 years until it ceased publication in 1960, died in St. Vincent Charity Hospital Wednesday.

Death was from a brain hemorrhage.

When the News went out of existence, McAuley became sports editor of the suburban Sun Press. He was a former president of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Irish, LSU Picked To Lose By AP

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame and Louisiana State are top college football teams in most ratings of getting their noses bloodied this weekend. Also keep an eye on Pitt, a sleeping giant ready to pull an upset.

Last week the score was 45 of 54 for .83. Now goes another flight into outer space.

Northwestern 13, Notre Dame 7: The Wildcats are in a strike-back mood and the Irish are due for a letdown.

Florida 13, Louisiana State 7: The Gators' multiple offense finally gets clicking.

Pittsburgh 10, Navy 6: Pitt inevitably comes up with a big effort in midseason. This could be it.

Penn State 21, California 13: The Nittany Lions came of age against Syracuse last week.

Michigan 13, Minnesota 0: The Gophers are slightly favored but we feel the Wolverines have more punch.

Baylor 15, Texas A&M 12: Both teams nursing wounds but the Bears have more well bodies.

Alabama 38, Houston 6: The Crimson Tide's muscles have muscles.

UCLA 20, Stanford 8: Bobby Smith, UCLA's No. 1 tailback, should be ready for full-time action.

Washington 18, Oregon 7: Coach Jim Owens has had time to plug graduation losses and should be strong in the stretch.

Michigan State 33, Indiana 6: The Spartans aren't about to yield their No. 1 position.

The others all Saturday:

Rangers Call Up New Goalie

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Rangers called up goalie Marcel Paille Sunday from their Springfield farm team for Sunday night's National Hockey League game against the Detroit Red Wings.

Paille, 28, a veteran with the Springfield club of the American League, will be in the Ranger nets in place of injured Gump Worsley. Worsley was reported improving after suffering a severe concussion Saturday night midway through a 4-4 tie with the Wings.

New Pro Basketball Loop Makes Debut Friday Night

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Basketball League, with its new rules including three points for a long distance shot, makes its debut Friday night when the Los Angeles Jets and San Francisco Saints meet in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Commissioner Abe Saperstein, highly successful owner of the Harlem Globetrotters and owner of the Chicago representative in the new league, Wednesday announced a schedule totaling 320 games with each team playing 80 games.

The league will be divided into two divisions, the Kansas City Steers and Hawaii Chiefs joining the Jets and Saints to make up the Western Division. The Pittsburgh Wrens, the Washington Tapers, the Cleveland Pipers and the Chicago Majors from the Eastern Division.

Local Television
All the teams with the exception of Chicago have local television at least six games. Saperstein at least six games. Saper-stein is working on landing his team on television and also a possible national TV program for the league.

Although every team has a home site, not one will play all 40 home games at the same site. For example, San Francisco will play in the Cow Palace and the Civic Auditorium with a few games in Oakland and Sacramento.

An interesting innovation will be the three-point basket. Any goal made from an arc 25 feet from the basket will count for three points. The league also has adopted the wider free-throw line with an 18-foot base instead of 12 feet. The wider lane, used in Olympic games, will prevent jams under the basket.

Whereas the National Basketball Association rules that a team on offense must get the shot off in 24 seconds, the ABL rule is 30 seconds. Like the NBA, there will be four 12-minute quarters with no zone defense.

To cut down on trips to the free throw line, the new league will have no free throws — but loss of the ball — on offensive fouls; no free throw on double fouls and no free throw after a successful shot unless the bonus rule is in effect.

Frank Robinson Plans To Marry

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Robinson, slugging outfielder for the Cincinnati Reds, plans to marry a California girl next Saturday, a team spokesman said Monday.

Invitations to friends, received Monday, told of plans for his marriage to Barbara Ann Cole, sister of Mrs. Berli Jackson, of Los Angeles.

Robinson, slugging star of the National League in 1960, was a contender for batting honors this season before a late season slump sent his average tumbling.

Pocono Pines Sailor In Middle East

GEORGE E. FRANKS, interior communications electrician, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Franks, Pocono Pines, is serving in the Middle East aboard the destroyer USS Willard Keith, now on patrol in the Persian Gulf.

The Keith visited Naples, Italy, Athens, Greece, the Suez Canal, the British colony of Aden on the southern tip of the Arabian peninsula and Bahrain Island off the coast of Saudi Arabia, while steaming to its patrol area in the Persian Gulf.

Conviction Of Official Upheld

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Cambria County Court yesterday upheld the embezzlement conviction of County Commissioner Frank J. Burns.

In an opinion handed down by trial Judge George W. Griffith and concurred in by Judges Alton A. McDonald and David C. Wolfe, the court refused to reverse the conviction and rejected a motion for a new trial.

Burns was convicted last July 5 of embezzling $6,170 during his tenure as superintendent of the Cambria County home from 1957-1959. He has refused to resign as a county commissioner.

Arnold Smoot, Burns' attorney, said Monday's ruling will be appealed to the Pennsylvania Superior Court.

Meanwhile, Burns was ordered to appear for sentencing Oct. 30.

Ens. Hickey Completes 1st Solo Flight At Pensacola

NAVY ENS. Donald J. Hickey, son of Mrs. A. M. Hickey of 725 Scott St., Stroudsburg, recently completed his first solo flight while attached to Training Squadron One at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

He made the flight in a Beech "Mentor" trainer aircraft. Student pilots also receive classroom instruction in communications, navigation, engineering, athletics, aerology and civil air regulations.

Upon completion of 18 months training, including pre-flight, basic and advanced flight training, and aircraft carrier landing qualifications, student aviators receive "Wings of Gold" and are assigned to man land- and carrier-based aircraft around the globe.

Before entering the service in June 1961, Ens. Hickey was graduated from the University of Notre Dame. He is also a graduate of Stroud Union High School.

Many Mysteries Center On Wall That Divides Berlin

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
BERLIN (AP)—There are a number of mysteries centering on the grim wall of concrete and barbed wire dividing Berlin.

There is evidence that the West had forewarning of the Communist intention to build the wall. That would make the lack of Western reaction or counteraction seem all the more strange.

Now that the wall is built, there seems to be little effort by the West, outside of West Germany itself, to exploit its potentially enormous propaganda impact on the rest of the world.

The indications are that the wall was the idea of Soviet Premier Khrushchev himself, and that he long ago let his intentions be known in the West. This probably would mean that Khrushchev was probing, trying to gauge just how much steel there might be in the Western will to resist.

Ever since the Cuban invasion fiasco of last spring, diplomatic sources report, Khrushchev has entertained the notion that the United States is weak and irresolute. He has said as much to visitors. The wall probably was an experiment, perhaps a gamble, to test the validity of that notion.

Highly reliable sources here report it now is established that on Aug. 13, when construction of the wall was begun, the East German people's police—the Vopos—at the sector border had no ammunition in their hands. The idea would be to avert a dangerous clash, should the Americans and their allies react swiftly and determinedly to prevent construction of the wall.

Deserted refugees who were among the last to escape to the West before the wall was built brought with them the report that it was to go up. They even had the exact date.

The Communists began the job slowly, cautiously, then waited a couple of days for something to happen. Nothing did, and they went ahead with their program to turn East Berlin into a huge concrete cage.

Among the Communists' purposes were these. They wanted to cut off all contact between East and West Berliners; they wanted to impress upon the world that East Berlin was the capital of a sovereign East Germany; they wanted to stop the flow of refugees; they wanted to make it less difficult to run a disciplined police state.

They got away with it. It was a major coup for Khrushchev. Indeed, it may have been so important a victory for his ideas and his policies that it affected the proceedings at the 22nd Communist congress in Moscow. There Khrushchev's hand appeared to have been emboldened to throw the book at his foes within the Soviet and the world party leadership.

As for the potential Western propaganda value of the wall, now that it exists, that is self-evident to the visitor.

The West Berlin and West German governments have arranged visits to the wall for visitors. The impact has been remarkable. Visitors from India, for example, were seen bursting into tears upon contemplating the ugliness of the wall.

Heart-wrenching sounds and sights can be encountered. An East Berlin woman, for instance, looks skyward and shouts across the barbed wire: "Look at the birds. They can go over there. I can't!"

Once there was even a wedding at the wall. The bride and groom were on one side, many of the relatives on the other. All were weeping.

Many a West Berliner says he would like to see people by the thousands brought to Berlin—students, impatient young men from Latin America, from Asia, from Africa. They could hardly miss the impact.

And say the West Berliners, if these young men had any notions of embracing Soviet-type communism, one sight of the wall likely would cure them. The message they would take home could be the most effective propaganda against Sovietism yet devised.

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Daily Record does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wage. Beginning September 3, 1961, employers engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must pay at least $1.15 an hour and at least one-half for hours worked after 40 in a workweek, unless specifically exempt. Employees of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 8, 1961.
If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's office at 602 Weeping Valley Veterans Ride, Northeast, Pennsylvania,
10 North Main Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Phone:
